Promise Facts On High School Bond Issue

The Editor's column

by S. R. PADDOCK

The fog that blanketed San Francisco early Sunday morning, forcing the Pan American Clipper to detour 275 miles to Los Angeles, cured us of ever again complaining about a short highway road block. The air detour of 550 miles finally landed us in San Francisco seven hours late.

Many plane and railroad connections were missed and we agreed with the passenger who said, "if you are not in a hurry, fly."

The delay means that we are tardy to our job and this week's editor's column will be written on our way home, instead of the publication office.

While waiting for the departure of our train we visited our brother, David, who directed us to the Sutro famed collection of old manuscripts and books that are in the San Francisco library. An employee who is rather proud of the collection was our guide.

The first stop was in the bomb proof shelter in the basement where the most valuable items of the collection are stored. He handed us original manuscripts written by Capt. Bligh, of the Bounty, also books printed as long as 500 years ago when movable type first came into being.

Returning to upstairs book racks he claimed he could produce anything of a historical nature that we might request. With thoughts of home we said, "the history of Palatine, Arlington Heights and Elk Grove." A few minutes later he handed us two volumes of early Cook county history in which paragraphs answered our request.

A few minutes before train time mail brought us a copy of Jan. 28th issue of the Arlington Heights Herald. It contained the startling news that an organized effort is being made to defeat the high school expansion program by creating a stampede of voters against the proposed bond issue.

We hope that the story in that issue did not defeat the elementary school bond election last Saturday. We note that the opposition is basing its opposition upon "what's the hurry."

They know that the general public is quick to swallow a plea for delay. Arlington Heights has become noted for delaying tactics that have repeatedly cramped civic projects. The tax cost argument will probably be their main line of offense.

"Oh, this is so sudden" was the customary reply of a modest young lady fifty years ago when there was an offer of marriage. Today's maiden says, "Okay, let's go."

The high school board has not kept secret their expansion program and there is little reason for the "too sudden" argument. The answer of the voters should be "Okay, let's go."

Ample news coverage will be accorded both sides. All we ask is that the voters do not "swallow the hook, line and sinker."

In an interview with two marines on their way home from Japan we received some inside facts about marine life. Three things stand out. They do not think that just because an 18-year-old boy wears a uniform, he should have the right to vote, the extra pay for overseas duty should be reversed and a marine is tough because he is made that way.

"It is only after a couple of years in the armed service that a boy can be proof against the influence of political spellbinders and certain to do his own thinking when he enters the voting booth," says Marine No. 1.

We added to that statement that there are a whole lot of people who have voted many years who do little individual thinking, politically.

"Uncle Sam adds a few dollars to our pay check when we serve overseas," said the second marine, "and the minute we land on the mainland we find we need that extra pay to buy plain necessities in this country. They should reverse the procedure."

We now know why Palatine Police Chief Frank Meyer, an ex-marine, occasionally shows traces of being hard boiled.

When a man passes through a marine boot camp he learns how to take a lot of physical punishment and how to hand it out. They are taught how rough they can get with a stick or their fist without inflicting permanent injuries.

"We are not only the 'pretty boys' in fancy uniforms, but we are the ones who expected to quell mobs and in case of emergency protect the shore patrols," was the way Marine No. 1 explained his duties.

When their fellow passenger, Sgt. John A. Bissonnette, of the air corps, learned that we resided in Palatine he asked us to pass on to the family of Wm. Berenz the word that their many letters are helping their son endure his confinement in Park's Air Force hospital at Pleasanton, Calif., where the two boys occupied adjoining beds. "I never knew a boy to get so many letters from home," said the sergeant, who added, "I have heard so many things about Palatine that I consider myself a resident, by proxy."

Thieves Break Into School, Three Arlington Homes

Three Arlington Heights homes and the Elk Grove Community school, Higgins rd., were broken into and ransacked by thieves sometime during the night of January 31.

Hardest hit was the Elk Grove school, which had more than $500 in its safe including receipts from the current magazine drive being conducted by pupils of the school. The burglars gained entrance through a window and went through every desk and drawer in the building. They then blasted into the wall safe, where they found the money. Apparently nothing else was taken.

The school carries insurance for this type of loss.

ARLINGTON victims were Roger Burke, 438 S. Vail, Raymond Mahler, 502 S. Vail, and Roy Hughes, 6 W. Grove. Each home was entered by breaking a glass in the rear door. They were completely ransacked, though just a few items, including $39 in cash, were reported missing. A 16-gauge Ranger shot gun, over and under type, in a brown leather case, lined with yellow wool, was taken from the Hughes home.

Police found a good set of fingerprints in the Hughes home, which they are checking.

A total of $42 in fines was collected in the Arlington Heights police traffic court Monday night.

Mrs. Oswald Taege, Arlington Heights, suffered a bruised left forearm and elbow, when she was struck by an auto driven by Jack J. Csepp of 7 W. Davis, last week. The accident occurred while Mrs. Taege was crossing Vail street at the corner of Davis. A witness told police Csepp, traveling west on Davis, had stopped for the stop sign, but she did not see him hit Mrs. Taege, as she was walking south on Vail, having just turned off of Davis st.

OFFICER Jack Aldrich reported that Thursday, at 8 a. m., a Harvel bus stopped for the tracks on State rd., and then immediately proceeded across, though the crossing bell was ringing. He said the bus took to the center of the road to avoid the gates but the gates sill struck the bus, with apparently no damage to either. There were approximately 20 children aboard the bus at the time.

Another theft at the Chicago and North Western depot was reported this week. This time thieves took metal plates out of the men's and women's washrooms and also removed a faucet handle from the men's room.

An inhalator call Sunday morning took the squad to the William Harrington home, 1005 N. Race, where Mrs. Harrington was choking on a piece of meat lodged in her throat.

Mother's March Nets $5,082 In Arlington

The Mothers' March on Polio drive last Wednesday night collected a total of $5,082.51 from Arlington Heights residents. This was an increase of more than $900 collected last year.

More than 200 mothers braved the snow and ice to make the house to house canvass and amounts collected varied from $100 checks to pennies, nickels and dimes. Fathers wearing a badge declaring, "Tonight I am a Mother," were sent out in cars to make last minute collections. The police department loaned two of its men to guard the village hall as the money was dumped on desks to be counted and recorded.

TOTALS collected by mail, schools and store containers will be published next week.

"The overwhelming response to the Mothers' March can be credited not only to the citizens of Arlington Heights, but also to the enthusiastic cooperation from the mothers who marched," said Mrs. James Webster, chairman of the Mothers' March.

Many Registering Early For Women's Education Week

Early registration for Women's Education Week at the Arlington Heights high school has been quite heavy and the committee in charge is anticipating a maximum attendance of 750, Bruno Waara, committee chairman announced this week.

The program will be presented daily between 12:30 and 3:55 p.m. during the week of February 15-19. Registrations will be accepted as late as the day before the visit, provided that the day's registration is not already full. The limit of 150 women per day must be observed because of the limited number of teachers and administrators available to guide the visitors through the building.

LETTERS of invitation were mailed to the mothers of students last week, but no mailing list is available for the business and professional women and those without children in school. All women residing or working in the high school district are invited to attend. Reservations can be made by calling the high school (CL 3-0200) and telling the switchboard operator your preference of day and tour.

All tours will be conducted while classes are at work, and visitors will see the school in operation as on any normal school day. Women registered for the tours are asked to meet in the foyer of the new gym at 12:30 p.m. to register their presence. A regular student lunch will be served, cafeteria style, at 12:45. Tours of the school and classes will begin at 1:45. After the last class is dismissed at 3:10, the women will assemble for a discussion period.

Five tours are offered, covering the following general fields of study: commercial courses, science and math, homemaking, fine arts, and modern education. All tours will see some of the general features of the school plant, and if the group wishes to see some of the special-use rooms which are not listed on their tour, the guides will arrange to show them through.

Issue Second Warning To Keep Dogs Tied

A special effort is being made by the Arlington Heights police department to curb all dogs from running at large.

Last week a stray collie picked up by the police bit one of the officers. The dog was taken to the Arlington Animal hospital where it will be confined for 14 days to be sure it is free from rabies.

ALL STRAY dogs picked up will be checked for ownership and owners will have to pay stiff fines to get their dogs out of "jail."

"It's not that we want to make life miserable for dogs and owners but it's for the protection of the residents as well as the owners that we must put this curb on," said Chief of Police Carl H. Skoog. "We received a warning from the state department of the many rabid dogs and other animals in the county and we must keep all dogs under control if we are to stop a widespread development of this disease."

Army To Induct Six More Area Men Friday

Six more men from this area will be inducted into the army Friday by Local Board 101 of the Selective Service System.

Two of the men, Wayne O Hildebrand and Ralph Numan Allen, are from Arlington Hts Three are from Palatine, Victor C. Zoellick, Daniel H. Muchen and Ernest G. Heide.

Enrollment Figures Tell Story of High School Growth

by HIGH SCHOOL BOARD

In the course of the many public meetings which have already been held to explain and discuss the proposed second high school for the Arlington Heights area, there have been many interesting and thought provoking questions.

Some of these have arisen because of misunderstanding, but most are simply a desire for further information on the part of those who are fully aware of the need for educational facilities in this area.

The presentations of the problem will continue during the next three weeks before the vote February 27, by which time nearly forty civic and social organizations will have been covered, including the PTA and parent groups of every public school system and several parochial schools in the high school district.

Some of the questions which have been asked are answered below and others will be covered in subsequent editions of this paper:

Question: Is the second high school proposition something new that is being put forth without full consideration of the problem?

Answer: Definitely not! It became apparent to the school board, which has the responsibility of studying population and enrollment trends, two years ago that previous plans for the housing of the future high school pupils in this area would no longer be adequate.

As in the case of virtually every other school district, grade and high school, early post-war estimates, even though professionally made, were far lower than the actual growth.

Both Northwestern and University of Illinois authorities were consulted, and both arrived at the same conclusions; (1) Growth will continue far beyond that which is practicable to house at the present location; (2) In the interest of satisfactory, not to mention quality, education for the community, proceed with the aquisition of land and the planning of a building program, now.

Land was purchased on Foundry rd. last spring after full public discussion of the matter, including the intent to build on it, and with the full approval of the voters at a special election.

The need to build now was announced at a public open house at the high school attended by 600 citizens last November, nearly four months prior to the scheduled election. Specific plans and cost estimates were shown at the first of the current series of meetings January 8.

Question: How accurate are the figures on projected enrollment being used by the board?

Answer: The projection of 2094 students by 1956 and 3010 by 1960, for example, are based largely upon present, actual grade school enrollments. They were computed as follows:

1956
Freshmen, now 6th grade	663
Sophomores, now 7th grade	506
Juniors, now 8th grade	405
Seniors, now freshmen	330
	1904
Plus 10% move in	190
	2094
1960
Freshmen, now 2nd grade	798
Sophomores, now 3rd grade	648
Juniors, now 4th grade	654
Seniors, now 5th grade	636
	2736
Plus 10% move in	274
	3010

The above figures for those now in grade school are actual enrollments in twelve schools or school systems served by the high school as of October 15, 1953. The estimated 10% move in factor is very low for this area. It is not 10% per year, but allows for only 10% over the entire period (Present 6th grade, 10% in three years; 2nd grade, 10% in 7 years).

This is in the face of 1953 vs. 1954 increases of up to 16% in one year and a growth of approximately 5% in the high school itself just since school opened this fall.

It is a fact drop outs between grade school and high school is a negligible factor except as moveins and move-outs from the community may cause a child of one age to be replaced by one of another age. There have been only 18 high school students drop out this year whose family has not left the community, making room for another family.

Question: What would be the administrative set-up?

Answer: There is no thought of splitting District 214. Both high schools would be under the direction of the one board of education acting through a single superintendent and principals at each school.

After the first year, or two at the most (there is no intention to force seniors of 1956-57 to transfer from the present school), there would be complete four year high schools with separate activities programs, including athletic teams.

Question: Wouldn't this result in higher administrative costs?

Answer: Not necessarily. Any estimates of these and educational costs must take into consideration the growth of the school under any plan. Additional assistants, counselors and teachers are needed primarily in relation to the number of pupils.

Teachers cannot, and should not, be loaded with further classes regardless of location. In some cases specialists can be used in both locations.

For example, Arlington Heights is the only school in the West Suburban conference that has a gymnastics team and offers expert coaching in this field. This would be true also in some academic fields.

Question: What are the facts on the capacity of our present school?

Answer: This newspaper carried a headline on April 15, 1949 which read: "Must have more space, parents told; new unit adequate for 1500 students." It is true that the physical education and music departments, housed in the addition built at that time, can accommodate a student body of 2000 and this capacity will be used in step two of the over-all program. However, the academic facilities, the shops, and the majority of the plant cannot adequately house more than 1500 pupils.

Arlington Heights high school district will vote February 27 on the erection of a second high school. The school board has underscored the need for new facilities to meet projected enrollments, a conclusion based on a two year study. They are presenting their case before as many civic groups as they can attend.

The board has issued a statement in reply to questions arising at these meetings, and at a meeting held last week by a group opposed to the $2,500,000 bond issue.

Both sides have stressed the need for full presentation of facts and figures, and exchange of information.

Both sides have shown an eagerness to acquaint all citizens and taxpayers with the urgency of the problem. The Herald feels it would be remiss in its reportorial obligation not to allow the "proponents" and the "opponents" equal opportunity to present their positions.

Voters Approve School Issues By 2-1 Majority

Nearly 1,000 voters went to the polls last Saturday to cast their ballot on the Arlington Heights grade school bond and tax levy issues, approving all by an approximate majority of 2-1.

The issues voted on included:

	Yes	No
Addition to New South School	642	327
$205,000 Bond Issue to pay for addition	631	333
Addition to Ridge School	637	326
$150,00 Bond Issue to pay for addition	634	333
Addition and Alterations to Junior High	638	330
$55,000 Bond Issue to pay for Alterations	635	331
Raise Educational Tax Rate from $1 to $1.12½	590	378
Raise Building Fund tax rate from 10c to 18¾c	596	371

FINAL PLANS for the building program will be approved by the board of education this week. The board plans to advertise for bids by the end of this week and has set March 9 as the date they will open bids.

After contracts are let it will allow approximately six months to get the new additions ready for the opening of school next fall.

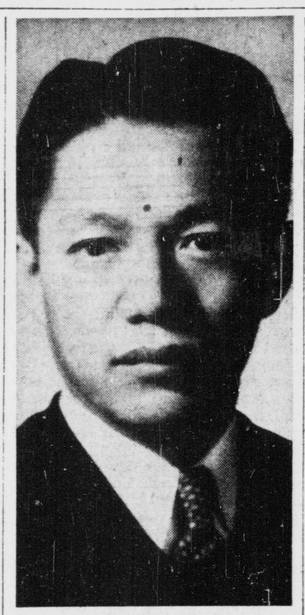

Free Chest X-ray Unit In Arlington Heights February 18

Free chest X-rays will be offered residents 15 years old and over, February 18, when a mobile unit is parked at the village hall, 101 W. Davis st., Arlington Heights.

X-raying hours are from 12 noon to 6 p. m.

The unit intended to serve as an adjunct to the routine community, industry, food handler and school surveys conducted in various parts of this year, is available primarily to persons needing large 14 x 17 in. x-rays for pre-employment, pre-marital, prenatal, and licensing purposes, or as follow-up to suspicious signs found in small-film surveys. However, since the unit can take small "survey" x-rays, too, persons who have not checked their chests for TB within the past year, can do so at this time.

The service is being provided by the Suburban Cook County Tuberculosis Sanitarium district in cooperation with the Christmas Seal-sponsored Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook county and municipal health departments.

REV. GEORGE NISHIMOTO

Area Youth To Hold Fellowship Service Sunday

Young people's groups from several Protestant churches in the Arlington Heights high school area will join in a United Christian Youth Fellowship service February 7 at Arlington Heights Methodist church. The service begins at 7 p.m. and is followed by a social hour in the church's social hall.

This service is conducted as a part of the Youth Week program promoted by the United Christian Youth Fellowship, a division of the National Council of the Churches of Christ. The offering to be received Sunday night will care for local expenses and a local contribution to the wider youth organization.

GUEST SPEAKER will be Rev. George Nishimoto, pastor and director of the Ellis Community center in Chicago. This is a community-center type of program carried on in Chicago by the Board of National Missions of the Evangelical and Reformed denomination. Mr. Nishimoto was born in San Francisco. He received the bachelor of arts degree at the University of California in Berkeley in 1940. While he and his family were interned in the camp at Topaz, Utah, during World War II, he was recieved at Eden Theological seminary in St. Louis, where he was awarded the bachelor of divinity degree in 1945. His first Christian ministry was back at the camp in Utah. After the war he became an associate secretary for the Church Federation of Greater Chicago and in 1947 took up his present work at Ellis Community center. He received his master of arts degree from McCormick seminary in 1950.

The Youth week theme, "So Send I You," will be the thought around which the United Christian Youth Fellowship service will be organized.

THE HIGH SCHOOL choir, with Earl Auge of the Arlington Heights Presbyterian church as director, will sing. Miss Bonnie Stevens and Miss Dena Klingler of South church in Mount Prospect, Bert Emrick of the Arlington Heights Methodist church, Miss Marilyn Woss of St. John Evangelical and Reformed church in Arlington Heights, Bob Charles of the Community Presbyterian church in Mount Prospect, and other youth representatives of churches in the area will participate in conducting the service. Ushers will be members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship. Rev. Stuart Saul of Arlington Heights Presbyterian church has guided plans for the service.

The social hour will be led by Marvin Eppard of Garret Biblical Institute and Miss Rita Cobb of the Baptist Missionary Training school, with young folks assisting. Each group will bring potato chips and pretzels and soft drinks will be served at cost.

Young folks of high school age and above will participate in the service Sunday evening at 7, but junior high age youth and all interested adult advisers, teachers and parents have been invited to be present for the service and social hour. (B4F

Car-Airplane Collide At Arlington Airport

A car-airplane collision is almost as sensational a headline as "man bites dog." At least that was the opinion of Joe Pitzen of Arlington Heights whose 1951 Chrysler was the victim of just such an accident at Arlington airport last week end.

Pitzen, who has a government contract to pick up and deliver airmail letters and parcels at airport, had parked his auto in the regular space allotted him. While he was picking up the mail a plane being taxied by Charles Weinrich, 16, of 538 Newbury, Arlington Heights, sideswiped his car, the propeller tearing off the left rear fender and damaging the left side of the trunk.

According to Pitzen, Weinrich said his windshield was fogged and he did not see the car in time to avoid hitting it. The plane's propeller was bent, but no other damage to the plane was reported.

Cpl. John Martin Honored Posthumously; Killed In Korean War

Cpl. John P. Martin Jr., son of Mrs. Frances Martin, 7 W. Campbell, Arlington Heights, was honored posthumously for giving his life for his country in military operations in Korea.

Mrs. Martin received a memorial citation in memory of her son which was signed by President Dwight D. Eisenhower. She also received a purple heart, Korean campaign medals and battle stars. John, who had been missing in action since January 1950, was declared officially dead January 4, 1954. A gold star was also presented to Mrs. Martin.

Committee of 100 To Carry Campaign Of Information

Further progress is reported in the movement to bring about careful consideration of the proposed $2,500,000 bond issue designed to finance the construction of a second high school in the Wheeling-Elk Grove township area to supplement the present Arlington Heights high school. The movement was launched on Tuesday evening January 26 at a citizen's meeting at the Arlington Heights field house, called by James E. Millay, and attended by approximately 40 persons.

At that time a motion authorized Millay to appoint an executime committee in whose hands the development of the program would be placed. The committee had its initial meeting on Sunday afternoon, January 31, at the home of Max G. Mayrer, 714 N. Belmont, with an attendance of about a dozen members. Those present included — Darwin B. Blix, R. F. Glueckert, George Heiber Jr., Arthur L. Johnson, Lester T. McAuliffe, James E. Millay Jr., E. L. Thompson Jr., Joseph A. Wisersky, Millay Sr., Mayrer, Leslie Stoike, L. J. Schaefer, and others.

Stressing that it is the purpose of the movement to secure more information about the proposed new school building, and the bond issue, so that voters may act intelligently when the matter comes up for election on Saturday, February 27, Millay announced that there is being prepared a complete analysis of the project which can be put in the hands of prospective voters.

Said Millay—"This is the second of our New England Town meetings through which we hope to acquaint citizens of the school district with every phase of this undertaking. We decided on Sunday to move ahead with the organization of a 'Committee of One Hundred' under whose auspices the proposed expansion program can be examined and explained.

"It is our present belief that the second high school is not necessary, and will entail high administrative costs without commensurate benefits to the communities affected.

"There is certain to be an increase in taxes on real property, and administrative expenses which we are convinced the present assessed valuation of the two townships will not sustain. We also believe that our greatest need right now, or in the near future, will be consideration of grade school expansion, which may not be possible for years to come if our tax collectibles are consumed by the proposed new high school bond issue.

"Also we have no desire to see our grade school pupils put on a part-time schooling basis through such a condition. Many of our newcomers out in this region are young people who have stretched their resources to buy homes, accepting mortgage obligations thereon. We do want to see them, and others here, drift into a 'taxpayer's strike,' because of an enlarged draft on their limited available funds. Many such have occurred elsewhere in the past.

"We intend to go to the bottom of this matter and place the facts in the hands of the public before we are through."

A review of progress to date showed that there are more than fifty citizens who are interested in further figures and analyses, particularly of per-pupil cost accounting, and who have already pledged themselves to carry the story to the voting public prior to the February 27 election.

It was determined at the Sunday meeting to oragnize discussional gatherings throughout the high school district, so that all who are interested may have an opportunity to learn what there is to be known about the proposed bond issue project. A speaker's bureau is being organized so that groups within the district who want to know more about the matter may have an informed speaker present to offer all available data, and to encourage audience participation in the discussions.

Voluntary subscriptions to defray the minor costs of this educational program are beginning to flow into Millay's hands, and already a tidy budget is available. Members of the executive committee are arranging a public meeting at Mount Prospect to occur in the near future. They have agreed to accept personal responsibility for the futherance of various phases of the movement and to enlist additional members.

January Building Totals

Building permits issued during January in Arlington Heights totaled $340,925. Included were permits for 17 single family homes totaling $302,500. The balance of the permits were for additions and alterations to homes and commercial buildings, which totaled $38,425.

Meet Your Neighbors

This week we'd like to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hoganson, 922 N. Kaspar ave., and their two boys, John, 12, and Gary, 5, to the community. Mr. Hoganson is with the government and has just recently been transferred here from Minneapolis, Minn. Mrs. Hoganson makes no claim to a special hobby, but if one wants to call taking care of a family a hobby, that's it. At present she has been keeping herself busy getting her new home into "apple-pie" order. The whole Hoganson family seems to like Arlington Heights and are looking forward to a pleasant home-life here.

Those who have any item that is newsworthy, a birthday, anniversary, or birth, please get in touch with me, CL 3-7754.

Circling the Town

BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

We saw our first wrestling match Saturday night. (Notice, we said "match" and not "exhibition" for in this case the competitors—from Arlington and LaGrange high schools—were really that).

High school wrestling is only remotely related to the television variety. There are no histrionics, all participants are in dead earnest, and they are penalized for hurting the opponents. For instance, when one boy held another above his head in traditional wrestling fashion, he was cautioned by the referee to be sure his knee was on the canvas before dropping the opponent.

Points are given for "escape" and for "reversal" (when a boy is on the bottom, escapes, and gets on top of his opponent) as well as for pins. Matches are exciting, competition keen. Even when an individual match is uneven, the bout is still interesting and hard-fought.

Saturday's varsity contest couldn't have been much closer—LaGrange won by 22 to 19. Carlino, Schaeffer and Brant looked looked especially good for Arlington Heights.

No admission is charged at wrestling matches, and the next one is Saturday night at 7 p.m., when the local boys will face Glenbrook high school. Coach Dick Mudge invites the public to come and see what "real" wrestling is like.

Thoughts in Passing

With the grade school elctions of Saturday approving all propositions by a healthy two to one margin the necessary expansion of the elementary schools is assured. All that remains is for the voters to decide the future fate of the high school.

We don't intend now to go into the subject thoroughly, but perhaps the so-called "opposition" has neglected to consider several things: First, most of the voters who approved the purchase of the second site were doubtless adding their—at least tentative—approval to a second high school.

Second, and probably more significant, no enrollment figures seem to have considered that Rolling Meadows, though not in the grade school district, is in the high school district. No one knows just how many boys and girls the area will eventually send to the high school, but the numbers will certainly be great. Some provision will have to be made for this influx of students.

Youth Week

Youth Week, celebrated in many protestant churches of the area, will reach a climax Sunday night at 7 p.m. with the union youth rally at the Methodist church. Boys and girls from seven churches of the Arlington high school area will participate. Speaker of the evening is to be Rev. George Nishimoto, a Neisi pastor, from Ellis Community center, Chicago.

Following the service a fellowship hour—with refreshments, of course—will take place. Young people of seventh grade age and up are participating in the activities of the week.

Mr. Bones and Friends

Traditional end-men of minstrel show fame with their interlocutor will form the framework of the annual minstrel show of the high school Saturday night.

Specialty musical numbers are also a major part of the entertainment, which begins at 8:15 p.m. in the girls' gym.

At Annual Meeting

Dr. Robert H. Balfour, 6 W. Campbell st., took an active part in the 46th annual meeting of the Illinois optometric association in the Sheraton hotel, Chicago, this past week end.

Bon voyage to Mr. and Mrs. August Hennings who are embarking on a ten month tour of Europe. They sail from New York on the Steamship Ryndan February 6. The Ryndan will arrive at Southampton, England, February 13, and from there they will start their tour which will take them through England, France, Italy, Germany, Switzerland and other countries. While in Germany they will visit Mr. Henning's sister. This is the first ocean voyage for Mr. and Mrs. Hennings. Their daughter, Mrs. John Kelly, who is also an Eastwood resident, will keep us posted on her parents' whereabouts.

New neighbors in this area are Mr. and Mrs. B. W. McDonald of 630 N. Beverly. They are occupying the Hennings' home while the latter are away on vacation. Mimi, 14, a freshman at Arlington high, Billy, 10, in the fifth grade, and Barbara, 8, in the third grade at St. James school are the other members of the family. The McDonalds moved here from Sioux Falls, S. Dak.

Mr. and Mrs. William, 310 N. Lincoln lane, are moving to Richmond, Va.

Mayor To Appoint Committee To Help Select Village Manager

IN 16,000 HOMES

A committee of three citizens, who are in no way connected with the Arlington Heights village board, will be appointed by Mayor Albert W. Goedke to work with members of the board to screen applicants for the position of village manager. Mayor Goedke will name the committee at the February 16 board meeting.

Approval was given by the village board Tuesday night for a 12 unit, one bedroom apartment building to be erected by William Trude on Ridge ave., between Euclid st. and Northwest hwy. This is the first of several apartment buildings Trude proposes to build on the site, which formerly was occupied by the Lutheran Home and Service for the Aged.

THE BOARD took under advisement the plat of Arlington Greens Subdivision number two. The lot sizes do not meet the village ordinance in every instance and a variation is being asked for. The building committee recommended the variation be granted.

Permission was granted Bob Harth, an employee at the sewage treatment plant, to attend a five day course for sewage plant operators at Champaign, March 22-26, all expenses paid by the village. The board also granted permission to Harold Dobbins and Vincent Weidner to attend a two day session of sewage plant operators at Springfield March 9 and 10, all expenses paid.

The board approved the payroll in the amount of $31,146.16, and authorized the water department to purchase a leak detector for $95.

Village Attorney Hugo J. Thal was authorized to draw up an amendment to the ordinance regarding village employees. The amendment will permit all employees, with the exception of volunteer firemen, to live within a five mile radius of the village. Applicants for jobs in the village may come from any distance, but, if hired, will have to move within the radius following his probation period.

As you look at it, you can see a lot of what makes this new 1954 Buick SPECIAL so sensational.

You can see the long, low, sleek and ultra-glamorous lines that add up to the biggest automotive styling change in years.

You can see the remarkable new windshield with the back-swept corners—greatest visibility improvement since closed cars came on the market.

And of course you can see the price—the local delivered price—which is headline news, too.

For that, as a shopping tour will tell you, is just a few dollars more than those of the so-called "low-price three."

But what you can't see is the rest of the sensational automobile that's yours for the low price shown here.

The spectacular power of this SPECIAL's brand-new V8 engine. The honest six-passenger roominess. The truly modern interior luxury. The superb new handling ease. The sublime comfort of Buick's famed Million Dollar Ride—now steadied even more by a newly developed front-end geometry.

"Lest We Forget"

The residents of Campbell st., from Oriole Lane to Meadow Drive, of Sigwalt st., from Dove st. to Oriole Lane, and all residents of Oriole Lane are urged to attend the R. M. Home Owners ass'n meeting to be held February 4 at 8 p. m. in the Service office on Wilke and Campbell rds. The problems pertaining to organization, building and rezoning are to be discussed.

Correction

Last week I quoted the price of water at $7.50 per month, it should have been $7.50 per quarter.

Thank You

It has been called to my attention that the papers in the service office are getting picked up sooner. Is everyone getting a paper? If not, contact me at Clearbrook 3-1520.

Postponed Rezoning Hearing

I was unfortunate that after going out in the snow and cold last Wednesday to attend the meeting at the village hall, it was postponed until February 3, but I hope that all the efforts made on your part will not be in vain.

Vehicle Stickers

For your vehicle stickers see Mrs. Meyer or Mr. Gruber in the service office.

Newcomers

Mr. and Mrs. D. Wachholz and son, Dwight, 19, are formerly of Park Ridge. Father and son both work for Thompson Wire Co. doing a number of different jobs. Their neighbors are Mr. Wachhalz's parents, who are their main reason for moving to Rolling Meadows. It seems they need each other for transportation, the men travel to work together, leaving the two women with a car during the day. They have a pet Boston Terrier named "Joy," whose playmate is "Kimball Hill," another dog.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Reynolds have two children, Bobby, 3½ and Carol, just 14 months. Mr. Reynolds is a salesman for the J. F. G. Electric Co. in Norwood. Mrs. Reynolds has a full time hobby with her small children, but also enjoys oil painting. Both hope to belong to local business or social clubs.

Note

Will the newcomers that I have not seen, please phone me or take an information sheet off the bulletin board, fill it out and return it as soon as possible. Don't forget to mention your birthday and other important dates.

Announce Date Of Community Concert Membership Drive

The sixth successful season of the Community Concert Association will draw to a close with the concert of Eugene Conley Sunday, March 7.

The five concerts this season have been varied to meet the tastes of everyone. The first concert was the small symphony "Virtuosi Di Roma," the second "The Leslie Bell Singers," the third "Sascha Gorodnitzki," the fourth will be "Mildred Dilling," February 14 and the fifth "Eugene Conley."

THE 1300 MEMBERS of the Arlington Heights Community Concert association during these past six years have had the outstanding concert artists of the world.

Each year, and only once a year, the public is given the opportunity of becoming members of the Community Concert association for the very nominal sum of $6 for adult membership and $3.50 for students, which entitles the member to attend all concerts.

The annual membership campaign is of five days' duration after which no memberships are available and no single admissions to any concerts are ever available.

This year's campaign will be from March 9 through March 13.

Two outstanding attractions have been held for this next season and the others will be decided upon at a later date by the Artists Selection committee.

FOR THE FIRST time the association will have a full symphony orchestra. The Rochester Symphony Orchestra comprising 90 pieces will appear in Arlington Heights. This orchestra is conducted by Erich Leinsdorf who has been guest conductor on many occasions for the Chicago Symphony Orchestra.

The second attraction is one which many will recognize from their guest appearances on "Toast of the Town" on TV, and from the many phonograph records that have been so popular. This group is the "Les Compagnons De La Chanson." This great singing ensemble of nine good-looking young Frenchmen had their first tour of the United States in the fall of 1953 and their reception by audiences from coast to coast has been "show-stopping."

WITH THESE two super attractions the membership of the Arlington Heights Community Concert association is assured of a most enjoyable concert season. The other concert attractions will be selected later.

For the present membership it is advisable to notify the person from whom you purchased your membership of your intention to renew, for the growth of the communities served by the Arlington Heights Concert association has been so great that memberships may be at a premium and memberships are available only from March 9 through March 13.

Rev. Scholes To Address WSCS On Migrants

REV. WILLIAM E. SCHOLES

Rev. William E. Scholes, supervisor of the midwest migrant work for the National Council's Division of Home Missions, will speak at the luncheon meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist church of Arlington Heights February 9.

In his present capacity as supervisor of midwest migrant work for the Division of Home Missions, Rev. Scholes is engaged in three major activities. As liaison between the home missions division and the midwest state migrant committees, he guides the work of some 40 or 50 local migrant projects. As supervisor of the midwest field staff, he is responsible for hiring, training and guiding the staff personnel in the general principles of the migrant ministry, as well as specific program education and community organization techniques.

Perhaps most important, he is a central source of information on problems facing migrants in education, health, social welfare and in religious life. He strives to keep constantly before the attention of the public the particular problems of migrant labor and to bring about legislation to alleviate these problems. The area under Mr. Scholes' supervision includes Minnesota, Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, North Dakota, Missouri and Texas.

Mr. Scholes was born in Pawtucket, R. I., and holds degrees from Brown university and McCormick Theological seminary. He also attended the New York School of Social Work, and is an ordained minister in the Presbyterian church, U.S.A.

Now residing in Des Plaines with his wife and four children, Mr. Scholes says he uses his infrequent spare time for gardening and home repairs.

Mrs. Lura Whitelaw, spiritual life chairman of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, will give the devotions, and there will be a vocal selection by Mrs. Ralph Cooke.

A buffet luncheon at a cost of 65 cents, will be served at 12:45 p.m. by members of the Bykota circle under the direction of Mrs. Florence Gordon, circle chairman. Mrs. Frances Dufelmier and her committee will have charge of the table decorations.

Woman's Club Study Groups Meet Next Week

Two study groups of Arlington Heights Woman's club will meet next week.

Mrs. John Kehe, 638 N. Highland ave., will be hostess to members of the music study group when they meet February 10 at 1:30 p. m. Mrs. Robert Marsh and Mrs. Wilbur G. Inman will be co-hostesses.

Clarence Weith, a salesman for Lyon and Healy, will present a Chord organ recital. His selections will be varied to show what can be done on this type or organ, even by those with no previous musical instructions.

Gains Promotion

Joe Tamulis, 202 W. South st., Arlington Heights, territory salesman of the Mautz paint and varnish co., Madison, has been promoted to district sales manager, it has been announced by Henry Behnke, Mautz general manager. His district covers northeastern Illinois.

His appointment was announced at the annual Mautz two-day sales clinic held at the University of Wisconsin.

To Address Men's Club

A special social meeting highlighted by a talk by the memory expert, James MacRae, has been scheduled by the Presbyterian men of Arlington Heights First Presbyterian church February 15 at 8 p.m.

"How to Remember Names and Faces" is the subject of Mr. MacRae's presentation, according to Paul Fellingham, president of the men's organization. Because of the great general interest in the subject, the church men are inviting their wives to attend the meeting with them.

Mr. MacRae's memory talks have been heard by scores of important organizations throughout this part of the country, and his hints on memory improvement have been successfully followed by many.

The Presbyterian men are also planning to serve special refreshments to their lady guests, and several other brief program features are scheduled.

Mission Group Meets Tuesday

The Womens' Missionary Society of Arlington Heights Evangelical Free church will meet at 8 p.m. February 9 at the home of Mrs. Ingvald A. Moe, 820 N. Ridge ave., Arlington Heights. This group was organized in September, 1953, and holds its monthly meetings the second Tuesday of each month.

Mrs. Roy Baumann is president, and Mrs. Norman Cook is vice president and program chairman. The subject of this month's meeting will be "Know Your Church," acquainting the women with the missionary activities and projects of the Evangelical Free church.

Mrs. Charles G. Will, the pastor's wife, Mrs. Milford Sholund and Mrs. Wilbert Norton, returned missionary from the Belgium Congo, will participate in the program.

Ladies of the community are invited. For further information, call Clearbrook 3-1630.

Woman's Club To Restore Flag's Patriotic Value

The challenging question that confronted thousands of women seated in Constitution hall, Washington, D. C., last May was, "Where can you buy an American flag in your city?" These women were delegates from every state in the union to the General Federation of Women's clubs convention, yet few could answer the question.

Arlington Heights Woman's club, working in conjunction with the Daughters of the American Revolution, are meeting this challenge. They feel that every home should possess the American flag and display it upon every occasion that is set forth by proper authority.

The club plans to enlist the cooperation of the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts to bring back the true patriotism the flag deserves. By calling Mrs. Nat Burfiend, American citizenship chairman, CL 3-2119, or Mrs. C. A. Hendrickson, CL 3-1351, interested persons may place orders for flags.

The flag should be displayed February 12 and 22 in honor of Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays. In the future this newspaper will publish the proper dates for displaying the flag.

Highland Grove School To Show 1-Room-School In Operation On TV

A rural school teacher will call her 14 pupils to order in a recreation of her one-room country school on the "Farmtown, U.S.A." television program Sunday, Feb. 7.

"Farmtown, U.S.A." is presented with the cooperation of the Illinois agricultural association and the Pure Milk association. It may be viewed at 12:30 each Sunday over station WBBM-TV, channel 2.

Mrs. Pauline Schmidt, teacher at the Highland Grove school in Cook county's Palatine township, will bring her students—six boys and eight girls—to the show and demonstrate how she conducts her one-room classes.

Mrs. Schmidt, who has been teaching at all levels since 1930, says her school covers all eight grades, although there are no students in the fourth and fifth grades this year.

George Menard, "Farmtown" master of ceremonies, will interview Mrs. Schmidt and the 14 students. Menard promises to create as much of the true school atmosphere as possible.

Wire 50 Millionth Customer For Electricity

Somewhere in the United States last Thursday (January 28), during the hour from 12 noon to 1 p.m. (Chicago time), America's 50,000,000th electric customer began getting service.

The Edison electric institute has calculated that approximately 600 additional customers were connected throughout the country during that hour and one of them was the 50,000,000th to get service.

Enlarge Police Headquarters At Arlington

If anyone sees the Arlington Heights police officers going around with a smile on their faces, it is because they are getting a "face lifting."

The village fathers have taken a long needed step to provide the police department with additional facilities to enable them to better fulfill their jobs. Chief Carl Skoog and all other members on the force have been requesting additional quarters for the police department. Until recent weeks they have had only the radio room and one other small room, which was built when the department consisted of five men, in which to hold and interrogate suspects and to perform daily police duties and keep records. The department now has 15 men, and probably another three men will have to be added to the department within the next three years.

TRUSTEE Richard Bronwell, chairman of the police committee, states, "In recent months there have frequently been more than sixteen officers and persons in the crowded police quarters at one time during periods of interrogation or investigation. On occasions police officers have had to hold suspects in the council chambers because of lack of space."

However, recently renovation began under the direction of Trustee David Zimmerman, chairman of the building committee, with the police officers doing most of the work themselves. Materials have in many cases been donated or obtained at cost so the job could be done at least possible cost. As soon as the work is completed, the department will have a room for the Chief, a room for the Lieutenant and Sargeants, a squad room, and a radio room. Also, there is an enclosed entrance through police quarters to the cell block.

A new three-wheel motorcyle with a radio has been purchased to replace the worn out motorcycle. In the past, the motorcycle had no radio, which meant it was out of touch with the station unless the officer phoned in. Two new squad cars will be rented and one of the old squad cars will be retained as a third car for inspection and routine work, plus emergency work.

A Drunkometer has been purchased to enable the officers and the court to determine legally whether a suspect is intoxicated. This machine has already been put to use and will eliminate the necessity of doctors appearing in court to testify on intoxication cases.

EDUCATION has been a further aspect of the "face lifting." Two members of the department have attended since last fall, and a third member will attend this month, the Northwestern University Traffic Institute to study police work and laws. This has been without tuition expense to the village.

However, it has not been all "out go." Since Richard Bronwell became police commissioner last May, the old theory of not giving home folks tickets was discarded, and tickets have been issued as warranted. From May, 1953, to December 31, 1953, (eight months), fine receipts with the cooperation of Judge William Neumann and Prosecutor Albert C. Peters, have risen to $9,000 compared with a little over $4,000 for all of 1952.

The police department, like all of us, still is not perfect in many respects. However, they are trying to do a good job, and have done some excellent police work in the past. With the new face lifting, one can expect the police work to keep pace with the growth of Arlington Heights.

Drills For Water But Strikes Oil

A Lake County man, who is keeping his fingers crossed and hoping that good fortune will smile on him, is Michael Rysso of Forest Haven subdivision, Bradley rd., south and east of Libertyville.

A carpenter by trade, Rysso and his wife own one acre of land in the subdivision. On it they have built and are still completing a small home.

Last week the Peter Snelten & Sons, well diggers of Glenview, started drilling for water at Rysso's request. At 135 feet the Sneltens ran into an abnormal amount of natural gas and at 186 feet they struck crude oil, so heavy that it was difficult to run the drill on through.

Striking oil in his back yard loomed as a very good prospect for Rysso, who with the Sneltens is quite excited about the whole thing. At Snelten's suggestion the well was capped and Socony Oil Co. was contacted. The company will send an engineer to the scene as soon as possible.

During Sunday night the school was forcibly entered and robbed of a large sum of money. Most of the money was removed from the vault by breaking through the wall. Fortunately the money is covered by insurance and will be replaced in the right accounts. A small amount of money was taken elsewhere around the school and minor damage done. No equipment was removed or harmed. School opening was delayed a few minutes while Cook County Sheriff's police investigated the scene. This followed in the wake of robberies in several nearby schools. Success to the police in narrowing the search.

Subscription Drive

The magazine drive is now in full swing heading for the home stretch next week through Wednesday. Super salesmen from the upper four grades are really setting a fast pace with their orders piling up higher every day. Any one of the eight Paddock Publications' local newspapers are being offered as new subscriptions only at $4 with part of the proceeds again going to the school.

Dental Week

Last week good dental practices and care were emphasized in dental health education week. Two assemblies for all pupils featured a dental film and a talk by a dentist. This dentist was Dr. Thompson, Mrs. Grosche's father, who is retired and lives near this district. There are still some dental inspection slips not turned in. Those slips should be turned in with any notation as to when the last time a check-up was made in order to keep our health records up to date. Dental correction slips should also be turned in after that work is completed.

Barbara Cortelyou And Victor Tesch Are Wed

A candlelighted altar decorated with poinsettias, ferns and baskets of white pompons, provided the setting for the wedding of Miss Barbara Cortelyou, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cortelyou of Bushnell, Ill. and Victor Lesch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lesch of Wheeling, which took place December 19 at the Presbyterian church at Bushnell.

The double ring ceremony was read by Rev. William Rule.

Marshall Watson sang "Always" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Robert Cortelyou, who also played the wedding marches. Lighting the candles were sorority sisters of the bride, Miss Norma Johns and Miss Joyce Schikel. Ushers were fraternity brothers of the groom, Gene Snyder, Jack Donovan and Charles Fischer, all of Chicago.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white chiffon velvet, fashioned with a redingote and accented with a net inset skirt. The sleeves tapered to a point over her hands with a full skirt falling into a cathedral train. Her seed pearl and bead trimmed headpiece held a fingertip veil of French illusion edged in lace. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and holly showering down her gown and wore a ring that belonged to her Grandmother Hellyer.

The bride's attendants, all of Bushnell, were Miss Jane Freburg, maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Betty Whittles, Mrs. Joanne Louden and Miss Phyilis Hutchins. Miss Freburg wore green chiffon velvet; the others wore red chiffon velvet. All four wore white fur hats and carried white fur muffs decorated with holly. The flower girl, Miss Stephanie Geeves, was dressed in white chiffon velvet; her headpiece was a white fur hat, and she carried rose petals in a white decorated basket.

Gene Lesch, brother of the groom, served as best man.

The bride's mother was attired in a light blue afternoon dress of crepe with white and navy accessories, and the groom's mother wore a royal blue afternoon dress with pink and navy accessories. Their corsages were white and pink respectively.

A reception in the church basement for 300 people followed the ceremony. A dinner party was held for the bridal party, parents and relatives at the LaMoine hotel, where a night reception was also held.

Following a two-week wedding trip to Florida, the newlyweds are making their home with the groom's parents in Wheeling, where a cocktail party was given in their honor by the groom's parents at the La-Ray cafe.

The former Miss Cortelyou graduated from Bushnell high school in 1951 and attended Western college two years where she was a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority. Victor Lesch graduated from Northbrook high school in 1945, spent 19 months in the service, received his master's degree from Western college and is now teaching at Elmhurst.

Mrs. Priest, who attended the University of Utah, her native state, became interested in political affairs in 1934 when she was made president of the Utah State Young Republicans. Since then she has served the Republican party in many capacities. She has served as vice-president and secretary of the Republican organization of 11 western states.

Favorites for Flavor

By LOIS SEILER

What could be more tempting than a Chocolate Fudge Cake with chocolate frosting? This special recipe is shared with us by Mrs. James P. Carr, 311 N. Douglas, Arlington Heights.

The cake has a basic fudge mixture which is cooked first, cooled, and then combined with other ingredients. The batter is baked in two 9-inch or three 8-inch tins. Its texture is somewhat heavier than regular chocolate cakes, but it is moist and delicious and will keep fresh for a week.

Mrs. Carr, a busy homemaker who is also a member of the Nurses' club and PTA, always makes this cake for special family dinners and birthdays. And there are many birthdays to celebrate in the family, as the Carrs have five children: Kathleen, a first grader at St. James school; Bill, a kindergarten student at North school, Pat, 3, Mary Ann, 2, and Michael, 1.

For birthdays Mrs. Carr frosts the cake with a seven-minute icing; at other times she uses the chocolate frosting which is printed below. This cake is a favorite with her family; it's certain to make a hit with yours!

Chocolate Fudge Cake

1 cup sugar
¾ cup cocoa
1 egg
1 cup milk

Mix the sugar and cocoa together. Beat the egg and milk together and add gradually to the sugar and cocoa mixture. Cook in double boiler until thick, stirring constantly. Cool. While fudge mixture is cooling, prepare batter.

¾ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 egg, beaten
2 cups flour, sifted
1 teaspoon baking soda
¼ teaspoon salt
¾ cup milk

Cream shortening and sugar. Beat in egg. Sift dry ingredients together and add alternately with the milk. Then add chocolate mixture to batter and mix well.

Pour into two 9-inch cake tins or three 8-inch tins. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, one-half hour or until done.

Chocolate Frosting

2 tablespoons shortening
5 or 6 tablespoons cocoa
2 cups confectioners sugar
Cream or canned milk
Vanilla

Melt the shortening and combine with the cocoa. Mix the sugar and as much cream as needed to desired consistency. Add cocoa and shortening mixture and beat together. Flavor with vanilla. Frost cake and top with chopped nuts.

Physicist To Give Men's Night Program For Junior Women

Arlington Heights Junior Woman's club will hold its annual Men's night at the next scheduled club meeting February 8 at Mount Prospect village hall at 8 p.m.

While studying at the University of Illinois, where he received his degree in engineering physics, Mr. Elarde worked on the cyclotron (atom smasher) and mass spectrograph (atomic analyzer). He later did research and development work for the Illinois State Geological survey and for the Naval Ordnance Laboratories in Washington, D. C.

Girl Scouts Plan Kits For Korea Project

Kits for Korea, a nation-wide project of the Girl Scouts, is being enthusiastically supported by troops in Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, Prospect Hts., and Palatine, it was reported today by Mrs. Hugh Robinson, district IV chairman.

The girls are making drawstring bags of gaily colored cotton and filling them with small useful articles for the children of Korea. The bags are being filled with such things as a pocket comb, soap, tooth brush, safety pins, needle and thread, a hair ribbon and similar items that people here in the United States take for granted as daily necessities but which are almost non-existent in stripped and war-torn Korea.

February 22 has been set as the date of the first nation-wide in-gathering of Kits for Korea. The kits will be sent to American Relief for Korea, 15-12 Flushing ave., Maspeth, N. Y.

This date was selected for the first in-gathering, because it is not only a great American patriotic holiday, but also a special occasion for Girl Guides and Girl Scouts around the world, February 22 was the birthday of the late Lord Baden-Powell, founder of the Scouting movement for both boys and girls. It is also the birthday of Lady Baden-Powell, world chief guide. It is observed as Thinking day when Girl Guides and Girl Scouts are especially aware of the mutual ideals and principles which form them into a world sisterhood. Many Scouts and Guides exchange cards or small gifts across the seas on Thinking day.

The Girl Scouts of Korea, a small, comparatively new, but very active organization, were consulted by the Girl Scouts of the U. S. A. before the Kits for Korea project was established.

It was at their suggestion that the Girl Scouts of the U. S. A. collect and send the children of Korea the small necessities that are so scare in that country. Above all, they said, put them in brightly colored containers to bring some cheer and gaiety into their lives. The Girl Scouts of the U. S. A. also consulted with American Relief for Korea to determine the kind of supplies that would be useful, easy to distribute, and to ship. (B4

Symphony Concert

An afternoon spent at the winter concert of the Northwest Symphony Orchestra at Maine township high school auditorium, Des Plaines, was inspiring and stimulating to the music lover. Perry Crafton, conductor, chose musical scores which were excellent in taste and appeal. Although they were not typical favorites, they were the type that a community symphony orchestra should select.

Selecting the suite from "Dardanus" by Jean Phille Remau was in itself a pleasing choice, since it deviates from the beaten path. We felt the string section was particularly outstanding and revealed a professional quality which in a community orchestra is unusual. The performance of this suite was competently played, notwithstanding a slight feeling of tension and timidity in the first movement. The Minuet and Rondeau Tendre were exceptionally well portrayed, bringing the piece to a smooth and well balanced finale.

Symphony 4 in D Minor by Robert Schumann was, without a doubt, a shining example of the results of hard work and cooperation. Particularly outstanding were the second and third movements, featuring the brilliance of the entire orchestra.

"Siegfried Idyll" by Richard Wagner made the listener aware of the great need for a well balanced orchestra. The "Siegfried" was beautifully done. Some of the sections of the woodwinds lacked in number, but not in quality or talent.

Lois Carlson's renditions of "Traume" by Richard Wagner and "Solvejg's Song" by Edvard Grieg were light and enjoyable. However, her interpretation of the aria, "Voi Lo Sapete" from "Cavalleria Rusticana" by Pietro Mascagni, brought forth the tremendous depth and magnitude of her voice.

A fitting finale for an afternoon of good music was "Le Coq D'Or" by Nicolas Rimsky Korsakov. The story behind the three movements was well interpreted and the necessary difference in mood handled with ease. The beauty, the lightness, the power and the depth were clearly defined under the able baton of Mr. Crafton who deserves all the credit for such an outstanding orchestra as this.

A job well done and an afternoon well appreciated, were the most frequent comments from the audience. (B4

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The wholly spiritual nature of effective prayer which overcomes sin, sickness, and sorrow, will be set forth at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Selections from the Authorized King James Version of the Bible and correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy comprise the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Spirit."

Scriptual texts include the following words of Christ Jesus from John:

"The hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth: for the Father seeketh such to worship him. God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth" (4:23 the, 24).

The following correlative citation from Science and Health by Mrs. Eddy will also be read:

"To enter into the heart of prayer, the door of the erring senses must be closed. Lips must be mute and materialism silent, that man may have audience with Spirit, the divine Principle, Love, which destroys all error" (15:9)

First Permit For Can Company At Barrington Totals Half Million

Building Commissioner Herbert H. Walbaum issued a permit to American Can company for construction of its Barrington laboratory and research center.

Estimated cost of the building is one and a half million dollars. Plumbing, sewer, landscaping and other necessary costs are not included in the estimate.

The research center is to be built on land recently acquired by American Can company from Jewel Tea Co., Inc., lying east of Northwest highway and north of Main street.

The building is to be a steel structure with half brick walls, steel sash, and glass and aluminum panels for exterior walls above the brick, according to the application.

The building will be I-shape with center wings, the overall length to be 519 feet and 10 inches and the greatest width to be 360 feet. It will be one story except for two small two-story elevations. Greatest height will be 34 feet.

Increases In Electric Rate On '54 Use Only

The new rate increases for Commonwealth Edison company and its Public Service company division effective with meter readings starting February 1 will not apply for service prior to January 1.

The company issued the following statement:

We have advised the Illinois Commerce Commission that we will not apply the new rate increase for service prior to January 1.

We have a large number of customers—industrial and large commercial—whose meters are read monthly.

This decision not to apply the new rates for use prior to January 1 will apply equally to all customers including residential and small commercial whose meters are read bi-monthly.

This means all use in December will be billed at the old rates. It applies to both electric and gas customers.

Feehanville School

Many of you have asked about little Marlene Unger, who suffered a serious eye injury during the Christmas holidays. We wish we had good news to give you, but at this writing she is still under her doctor's constant car and the family have moved to Chicago to be near her. Richard, her brother, has been transferred to a Chicago school so he will not lose too much schooling.

Mrs. Lerner, the speech teacher, has been very ill. However, we are glad to be able to tell you she is now back on the job and feeling fine.

Congratulations to Johnny Alexander, who celebrated his seventh birthday last Tuesday. It is a big day when a young man becomes seven years old, and Johnny was going to celebrate in a big way. When his mother saw the long list of names John had prepared for his birthday party, she decided rather than bring the children to the party, she would bring the party to the children, so Johnny had his party during the afternoon recess at school. Miss Rudd played the "Happy Birthday" record, the children were treated to ice cream-cake rolls, and the children sang "Happy Birthday" while Johnny made his wish and blew out the candles.

Last Friday at Feehanville school was full of fun and excitement. It started bright and early with the arrival of the photographers. Hair was slicked down and ties straightened—or hair was fluffed up and ribbons straightened depending on which child you were watching. Then, when all the children were ready, "Say peaches," said one photographer,—"Say Sweetie," said the other photographer —and like magic all the children had the desired expression, and the picture was taken. Now we are all eager to see the pictures when they come.

Later in the day the lower grades held a candy sale. The youngsters have been dropping pennies into a record album fund, and the candy sale was held to swell this fund and bring the day of purchase closer.

The most important event of this exciting day, however, came at going-home time, when the children received their report cards.

Eric Flink and Vivian Brookhouzen timed their recovery from mumps perfectly — they were both back in school in time for the class picture. However, there were several absent, among whom were Cynthia Davidson and Louis Bartucci. Louis and his sister, Mary, have both been very ill.

Jimmy Alexander, whose name was accidentally omitted from the list of our students who went on the trip to Chicago last week, tells us they also visited the University of Illinois.

Friday was a special day at the Prospect Heights school, too. Not only did the long-awaited individual photographs arrive, but it was report card day there, too.

Basketball

Prospect Heights basketball team played at the Wheeling school last Friday. Two of our lads, Ricky Haverkampf and Christie Stavros, were on the team.

The Brigadiers will be playing basketball Thursday, at the Holmes school gym at Chicago and Kenilworth ave. in Oak Park. They are playing Norwood Park, who has a formidable team and this should be a game worth watching. Transportation will be provided for the Stockade, who have been invited to attend.

Kathy Kirste, Cindy Shimmin and Cynthia Wehlescz met with Miss Jean Dick and Mrs. Anne Culp for a business meeting of the Pilgrims last week. These girls have either attained the rank of Pilot or are working toward that goal, and a good part of the meeting was concerned with discussion on ranks and badges. Wonderful plans have been made for a Valentine party, complete with a promised surprise, for February 15. The project the Pilgrims are working on now is making bath salts. Refreshments, (including ice cream) were served at the conclusion of the business meeting.

Scout News

It is always a little special when one of the Brownies has a birthday. Last week they gathered around and sang the "Happy Birthday" song to two—Carol Milos, whose birthday was right on Brownie day, and Betty Brewer, whose birthday was the very next day. Congratulations, Betty and Carol. Valentines seem to be the big topic right now in every group—the Brownies are starting their Valentine project, too.

Troop No. 233 celebrated their first birthday last Thursday. They had as guests at their party Mrs. Eva Anderson and son, Chris, Mrs. Elizabeth Arkell and two daughters, Peggy and Alice, Mrs. Ruth Munson, Mrs. Sophie Zapatka and daughter, Mary Lou, Mrs. Mary Wilming, Mrs. Rita Badalamenti, Michael Swiatowy and Judy Dziwota's younger sister. The first item on the program was a short skit by Janet Ramsey and Katherine Swiatowy, pantomiming the Girl Scout laws, numbers seven and eight. Then a play entitled, "Oh, Those Kids," written and produced by Jo Anne Orkell and Katherine Swiatowy was presented. In this Judy Munson was the father, Mary Jane Arkell was the mother, and the children were portrayed by Barbara Zapatka, Sharon Anderson and Judy Dziwota.

Mrs. Badalamenti presented year stars to the following girls: Marlene Olson, Janet Sandquist, Elaine Hanson, Katherine Swiatowy, Jo Anne Arkell, Patsy Zapatka, Judy Dziwota and Diane Wilming. Mrs. Arkell, the troop's camp stamp mother, explained to the girls and their mothers the purpose of the camp stamps and how they can be purchased. After the program refreshments were served by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Sandquist, one of the scout leaders.

Jimmy Alexander and Milton Cully were guests at a party given by a schoolmate last week, the Gregorys on Rand rd.

The Edwin Altons left Saturday morning for Fort Lauderdale, Fla. They will be visiting her sister there and expect to be gone at least three weeks.

Merrilee visited Mrs. Augusta Borg in Chicago Sunday.

Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Merritt were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Merritt and family of Mount Prospect.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Arient of Algonquin rd. celebrated their 42nd wedding anniversary and granddaughter Patricia's fifth birthday January 29 at the home of their son, Frank Arient Jr. of Portage Park.

Handicraft Club

The first meeting of the Handicraft club was held January 28 after school. The junior boys made hand puppets. Senior boys worked on leather belts and all the girls did some form of sewing. The children plan to make Valentines at the next meeting, which will be held February 4 at 3 p. m.

HOW TO CHOOSE SATINS

If you familiarize yourself with the several types of satins on the market, you'll avoid trouble.

Satins, are of course, valued for their luster.

The oldest and probably still the best way to give luster to satins is by rubbing. At the factory, this is done by "calendaring" — polishing the fabric between smooth cylinders.

Or the luster may be a combination of sizing and polishing.

Or it may be merely sprayed on, as in the so-called "lacquered" satins.

This last type of satin is usually unserviceable. Therefore, whether you encounter it as yardage or as trimming on a ready-made garment, you'd be better off not to buy it. Unless the merchant would guarantee its ability to withstand cleaning.

Another type of satin recently introduced on the market is the so-called "hammered" satin. Pretty. Until it's cleaned, then the embossed design is no longer there.

ALWAYS BE SURE TO ASK THE MERCHANT WHAT KIND OF SATIN IT IS, AND WHETHER HE'LL STAND BACK OF IT. If he won't, avoid it.

Luster is restored to satins both by means of special "sizing" as well as repeated ironing back tnd forth.

On good satin, the luster can usually be restored.

If it was unservicable to begin with, nothing can be done.

You see, cleaning is more than merely getting the soil out, and no cleaner in the world can ever make a garment any better than it was to begin with.

So, whether it's satin or any garmet you own, you'll be better pleased if you'll

Evangelical Lutheran Church Changes Name

There's a new name among Mount Prospect churches, new in the village, but as old as the Gospels. It's St. Mark's Lutheran church.

Founded as Mount Prospect Evangelical Lutheran church at Wille and Evergreen sts., in 1945, it has been popularly known as the "Evangelical Lutheran Church."

Now by vote of the congregation it's simply—St. Mark's Lutheran church.

According to the pastor, Rev. H. J. Rasmussen, the congregation felt that a more spiritual and more descriptive name should be chosen. The congregation includes members from a number of nearby communities as well as Mount Prospect itself.

"Shortest of the Gospels, St. Mark is described by theologians as one which soars," according to the pastor. Hence, the church heraldry denotes St. Mark as a winged lion.

Established eight years ago with only a few members, the congregation now numbers 750 souls and is building a new $150,000 church building which will adjoin its present small structure. Since its establishment the congregation has also built a parsonage and a parish house.

New church council members elected recently were: Carl Benrud, of Arlington Heights, for a one year term to fill the vacancy left by Marvin Wangsness; Larry Kussow of Arlington Heights for a term of three years; Carl N. Beier of Mount Prospect, for a term of three years; Charles Neff of Mount Prospect for a term of three years; Clifford Hesness of Arlington Heights for a term of three years.

The treasurer reported an income for the year in excess of $73,000. The pastor reported 174 new members. (AM

Local Man Speaker At Diamond Jubilee

Carl F. Jensen, regional engineer for Westinghouse Electric corporation, Chicago, was principal speaker at ceremonies Thursday night honoring a 50,000,000th electric utility customer in the country.

The event was preceded by a reception and dinner attended by civic, business and industrial leaders of the area.

Mr. Jensen's talk, entitled "What's Next?" was delivered in connection with the diamond jubilee of light being observed throughout the nation this year to commemorate the 75th anniversary of the invention of the ligth bulb.

Mr. Jensen, who lives in Mt. Prospect, showed invisible ultraviolet light at work. He did this using a golf ball-size mercury vapor bulb and applying Newton's prism "with a modern touch."

He also showed a replica of the Westinghouse "stopper" light bulb invented by George Westinghouse and used for the first time at Chicago's Columbian Exposition in 1893 to demonstrate the effectiveness of alternating current, which has become America's standard in the use of electric power.

Mr. Jensen showed how the cost of light per million lumen hours, or the entire year-long life of a 100 watt bulb, has reduced from a total of $33.53 in 1906 to $2.56 in 1953.

FOR THE ANSWER TO THIS QUESTION

Every year cars cost more, are driven farther, and go faster; people have more accidents and make much higher damage claims. Does $50/$100,000 liability limits cost more than only $10/20,000 and give really adequate protection?

Planning Auto Show For Chicago In March

The nineteen passenger car and nine truck lines exhibiting at the forthcoming 46th annual Chicago automobile show will be supplemented by a varied array of displays in the accessory section. Equipment, parts, allied end educational exhibits will share with the commercial vehicles the first floor of the International Amphitheatre during the nine-day run beginning March 13.

New "dream cars" of the type that contributed to the 1953 attendance record are taking shape in several Detroit area plants, they said, as competitors strike to keep pace with General Motors' elaborate Motorama. The officials noted also that still another record for Chicago is foreshadowed by the success of the Los Angeles show, first of the 1954 series.

Showcase Theatre To Close Permanently

Margaret Bannerman, New York actress, takes over role of Aunt Alicia in the Showcase production of "Gigi" Tuesday, February 2 and plays through Sunday, February 7. Miss Bannerman replaces Estelle Winwood who opened the show and played the first week's run, but found it necessary to return to New York for a previously committed television show-date.

Miss Bannerman played the role of Aunt Alicia with the Chicago company of "Gigi" last season at the Harris theatre and also on the cross-country road tour. Actually Margaret Bannerman began a career for concert pianist but during World War I auditioned for a London composer of musical comedies and since then can boast of a career that has been international.

Producer and founder of Showcase, Hope Summers, has announced that following the run of "Gigi" which ends Sunday, February 7, Showcase Theatre will close its doors. This decision was made by vote of the theatre's Board of Directors and is due to lack of area support and lack of funds. Showcase Theatre opened November 18, 1952 and operated year-round as an all professional stock company. It was in continuous operation with the exception of six weeks—holiday period.

Stuart R. Paddock, left, president of Paddock Publications, Inc., and W. E. Williams of Chicago Heights Star were recent visitors to Kaui, known as the Garden Island of Hawaii because of its luxuriant tropical foliage. They are shown in the spacious gardens of Kauai Inn, where they were guests during their visit.

Oh-h-h-h! That's exactly the exclamation let out by Mrs. Fred Gareiss of Arlington Heights when she entered the home of Mrs. Jack Scott Friday evening and was greeted by a houseful of fellow employees from Paddock Publications. The occasion was a baby shower for the guest of honor. —Staff Photo.

A buggy-full of gifts for baby-to-be were opened by Mrs. Fred Gareiss of Arlington Heights at a stork shower given in her honor last Friday evening. Guests eager to see the tiny baby garments in each package are, left to right: Mrs. David Shaughnessy, Mrs. John Lazor, Mrs. Carl H. Frank Cowan, 715 N. Highland, Arlington Heights, a salesman for Toledo Scale Co., Retail Division, of Toledo, Ohio, is shown as he received a sales world 'Oscar' from James A. Farley (right) at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York City January 29. The salesman was one of more than 70 from various parts of the country who were honored by the sales executives club of New York at the noted sales organization's first annual distinguished sales award dinner. The statuette represents an idealized figure of a salesman, with a briefcase ready at his feet.

Singing teachers and choirmasters from all over the country, aware that television had made singing a complicated business, are learning latest techniques in television shows at the Fred Waring choral workshop at Delaware Water Gap, Pa. Waring, one of the first professional entertainers to recognize the importance of adding drama to group singing, spends his vacations teaching vocal pedagogues latest techniques in everything from correct enunciation to television how-to-do-its.

Using some $35,000 worth of television and electronics equipment furnished by the General Electric Company, sponsors of the Fred Waring Show, top TV experts assist Waring in putting the students through their paces.

Among the more than 700 busman's holidaying choirmasters, singing teachers and other vocal enthusiasts from all over the country who attended the workshop last summer was Mrs. Neal Dean of Palatine who spent two very busy weeks learning latest techniques in everything from choral enunciation to television how-to-do-its.

Mrs. Dean is planning to return for the advanced course this summer, after studying microphone and TV practices last year. The course is well worthwhile to singing teachers, stated Mrs. Dean, and is power packed the days it is operated in the summer.

Here's good news for residents of Palatine. Bernard Z. Beedy, a long-time resident of the community, is now making his home available for evening appointments for those interested in a demonstration of the fabulous Hammond chord organ.

Mr. Beedy, who lives at 35 W. Johnson Street, is employed by Lyon & Healy. He is an old hand at the Hammond, having started his studies at the Evanston conservatory of music and having played professionally at "Highland House" in Morton Grove and at other clubs.

A graduate of Evanston township high in 1947, Beedy saw service in Korea in 1951-52 with the U. S. marines. His father-in-law is Albert Hapke, of 324 W. Slade, a member of Palatine fire department and long-time resident of Palatine.

Arlington To Be Host To Glenbard Cagers Friday Night

MAC SAYS

BY G. A. McELROY

THE WEEKEND DEVELOPMENTS in the Northwest Conference have certainly thrown the loop in a turmoil. The race is wide open and anything can happen. Grant, Antioch, Palatine, and Wauconda are all in a position where they can pretty well be assured of a share of the championship should they win their remaining five games.

Palatine has the toughest schedule, having to meet each of the other leaders, but this is also somewhat of an advantage, for they have a chance to knock all the others out of the race. At the pace they are setting this is more than just a remote possibility.

Wauconda meets only Palatine among the leaders and in the final game of the season on their own court. The same night to close the season, February 26, Antioch is host to Grant. The race probably will not be decided until those results are tallied.

TWO TEAMS WHICH APPEAR to be out of the race with five defeats in our opinion are going to decide who wins the championship. Ela-Vernon has looked the best to us of any of the Northwest teams Palatine has played and now, with a gym for regular practice, may be expected to move up in the victory column. They have yet to meet Antioch, Grant, and Wauconda.

Grayslake lacks size, but has the scoring punch to whip any of the leaders. They likewise have yet to play the same trio of leaders as Ela and we don't think either one of them will drop all three of these games.

The elimination may get underway this week when Antioch plays at Ela-Vernon and Grayslake is at Grant.

Wauconda, who plays at Glenbrook this week, is not so likely to underestimate the Spartans now that Grant has been upset. Palatine rates a home court edge on Bensenville and a real incentive to avenge a defeat early in the season which has cost the Pirates the league lead.

IT LOOKS LIKE JAY HOOK of Grayslake may win the individual scoring crown. The Grayslake guard has set a sizzling pace the last few weeks and is right on the heels of Grant's Bill Grenell. Hook tallied 41 points in the two weekend games. Don Prouty had a big week for Ela-Vernon with 42 in two games.

Palatine has had a different scoring leader in each of their last three games and that is a good sign. Eck got 24 at Arlington, Abramson 24 against Grayslake and Hapke 16 at Ela-Vernon. A six-foot-one average and 40% shooting with good rebounding has catapaulted Palatine up the conference ladder with a perfect record of six victories for the month of January after losing eight out of nine in November and December.

THE REAL HERO OF THE WEEK in our opinion was not Hook, Prouty, Abramson, Grennell or any of the high scorers. It was Roland Bizer whose 16 points led Glenbrook to the upset of the year in suburban circles as his overtime free throw provided the margin for the upset of Grant, 57-56. Glenbrook had not won a game all year and Grant, leading the league, had lost only three games in 19 starts for the season and one in eight league starts.

Bob Boyd, Ken Schulteis, Tom Lay, and Goettsche who with Bizer, played the entire game against Grant, made up an inspired combination which just would not be denied.

The victory is good for Glenbrook spirit and basketball interest and good for the conference, but we could not wish the fate of being the victim of such an upset on our worst enemy. Glenbrook has given notice: "Start taking us seriously or else."

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS will be host to two fine tournaments in the state series this year. Friday and Saturday, February 19 and 20, Wally Grace and his coaching group will handle the district wrestling tournament and with Waukegan, New Trier, and Evanston among the entries it will be the toughest in the state.

Then on March 8-10, Arlington will for the second year in a row, be host to the state sectional tournament in basketball. Our picks to play in that tournament as regional winners are Barrington, Elgin, Evanston, and Leyden.

Palatine Aims To Keep Pace With Leaders

Locally this week the basketball interest is in the game between Bensenville, 2-7, and Palatine, 6-3, at Palatine Friday night. The game has a lot of bearing on the conference situation for Palatine must win to keep pace with the other leaders and at the same time the Pirates are out to avenge an early December loss suffered on the Bisons' court.

Palatine has been playing improved ball right along and Pete Abramson and Dick Meyer, who were out of action when the team lost at Bensenville, will be very much in evidence this time. Palatine has the height advantage on every club in the league and since Christmas has started to use it to control the ball off the boards.

BENSENVILLE lacks size but has a high scoring outfit. Pedro Cuatrecasas, Ken Sirotski, Bob Breese, and Bill Long are all up among the top 15 in the loop scoring with Sirotski ranking third with 126 points. When they are hot they are a tough ball club. Bensenville's problem has been defense as they lead in points scored against them.

Coach Moylan of Palatine has more bench strength than most of the teams with the possible exception of Antioch. Goetz, Eck, Meyer, Hapke, Abramson, Breyer, Hahn, and Christensen a.e all very capable for first string duty and Eck is the only one under six feet tall.

The frosh-soph game also promises to be a close affair. Palatine won a close decision in the first meeting but Bensenville is playing better ball now and the result will be a toss up.

ELSEWHERE in the conference Antioch tests their title talent against Ela-Vernon in the new Lake Zurich gym. Grayslake hopes to even the series with the Grant Bulldogs at Fox Lake where the leading scorers tangle when Bill Grenell of the Bulldogs with 161 matches shots with Jay Hook of the Grayslake Rams who is threatening his lead with 157.

Wauconda nosed out Grant last Friday and then turned sour against Antioch Saturday for a 57-36 loss to a team they had previously beaten. They have a chance to recoup their loss at the expense of last place Glenbrook. Fans at Glenbrook will flock out this week to see if the Spartans have really improved enough to knock off another of the leaders.

Saturday Bensenville will be host to Mooseheart in a non-league game and Glenbrook and Ela-Vernon will make up a postponed contest at Lake Zurich.

Nine Schools In Sectional Wrestling At Arlington

Wrestling fans of this area will have a chance to see state champs in action in the 4,000 seat Arlington Heights high school gymnasium Friday and Saturday nights, February 19 and 20, when nine schools compete in the state sectional tournament.

This meet, along with other sectionals throughout the state, will determine state finalists for high school honors. Three sessions are planned with preliminaries Friday night, Feb. 19, semi-finals Saturday afternoon and finals and consolation matches Saturday night, Feb. 20.

NEW TRIER, last year's state champs, head the list of competing schools that also includes Arlington Heights, Maine, Evanston, Glenbrook, Palatine, Niles, Waukegan and Zion-Benton.

High school wrestling, a competitive sport at 12 different weight divisions, bears no resemblance to TV style grappling where showmanship rates higher than skill. High school wrestling has been growing fast in this area, particularly at Palatine, and large crowds are anticipated in the sectional meet.

"We must have crowds," stated athletic director Wally Grace, "to assure local fans future tournaments. We'll have several individual state champs competing in the strongest sectional in the state. I guarantee fans will go home well satisfied they've seen a good show."

FURTHER DETAILS of the tournament will be released by Grace next week. The Heights grapplers are having an active season this year, including a meet at Elgin Friday night, at home against Glenbrook Saturday evening, at home against Maine Tuesday afternoon, and a trip to Zion-Benton Thursday of next week, February 11.

Two Heights boys who were state finalists last year, Dave Brant and Bill Schaeffer, are certain to be competing this year in the sectional.

Highest scoring dog in open class in the North Shore kennel club's show was the honor won Sunday by Li'l Abner of Dogpatch, the dachshund pictured above. Owned by Mrs. Justin Fleischmann of Palatine, the dog took home six trophies for his afternoon's work at Rainbo arena on North Clark street, Chicago.

Li'l Abner finished first in class in Open A with 198, and won runoffs with two Shepherds for two trophies. The dog was bred and trained by his owner at the Northwest Obedience club in Palatine. Mrs. Fleischmann is pictured with her dog and the awards.

Announce Pairings For Regionals

Pairings for the various regional tournaments were released this week. In the regional at Palatine top seeded Barrington with 16 victories in 17 is paired with Glenbrook who won their first game of the season last Saturday night. In the same bracket Ela-Vernon, seeded third, meets Palatine who beat them last Saturday night, 64-53, but whom they whipped earlier in the season.

In the lower bracket, it appears that Arlington Heights has a good chance to advance to the finals. The Cards play Grayslake in the opening round with the winner taking on the victor in the Wauconda-Libertyville scrap. The fact that Palatine has beaten three of the four lower bracket teams with Libertyville yet to be played February 20, indicates the upper bracket is much the stronger.

Barrington is, of course, expected to breeze through the tournament but most fans would admit that anything can happen after hearing of Glenbrook's victory over Grant last week end.

BENSENVILLE'S BISONS will have to play in a district tournament at Lisle this year. They will meet St. Procopius in the first round and, if successful, will play Orland Park, who draws a first round bye. The winner will be pitted against the survivor of the Maryville-Lemont game, as there are only five schools in the tournament.

The Bisons being placed in a district may complicate the Northwest conference schedule as Bensenville is scheduled at Glenbrook Friday of the week the district will be played. The winner of Lisle district meets Proviso in the first round of the regional at Maine. Leyden, Oak Park, York, and Proviso are rated the best four at the Maine tournament.

ELGIN is the favorite at Crystal Lake with Antioch, Crystal Lake, and Dundee also seeded teams. Antioch meets Grant in the first round with the winner likely to tangle with Elgin in the semi-finals. An Elgin-Crystal Lake final is the dope.

At Waukegan the tournament is a real tossup. Waukegan, Niles, and New Trier have split in games with each other. Evanston has the better Suburban record but no particular edge on the others.

Powerful LaGrange and fast stepping Morton of Cicero will probably provide one of the best regional finals in the state at Riverside. Morton is on top in the Suburban and tabbed as a comer. LaGrange is rated top in the state.

Arlington Trackmen Now Conditioning

Arlington Heights trackmen have started working out the earliest in years with Coach Russ Attis getting 19 boys in shape for the outdoor season, still two months away.

Conditioning and running in the halls are the only orders of the day thus far, though the scheduling of some indoor meets will give the boys official status shortly.

Indoor meets slated thus far include University High of Chicago March 5, Evanston Relays March 19, and the Oak Park Relays March 27. An indoor meet at Maine is planned for the end of February, as are practice meets with Evanston, New Trier and possibly Crystal Lake.

Glenbard Grad Makes Pensacola Grid Team

Howard Heinrich, Goshawk tackle, landed a berth on the All Sea third team at Pensacola naval air base.

Heinrich came into the Goshawk nest last year in the middle of the football season and proved to be an outstanding defensive guard. With more experience under his belt he moved into first string position and gave an impressive showing at both offensive and defensive position. Heinrich was the only one on the team who had not played college football.

Howard played end, guard, and fullback on the Glenbard high school team. There he captained his team and was voted the most valuable player in 1950.

Both Card-Bard Contests Rate 'Toss-Ups'

Arlington cagers will be at home Friday night hoping to reverse an earlier 19 point loss to Glenbard varsity, with the frosh-sophs out to repeat their earlier 56-40 win over the Glen Ellyn five.

Actually, the varsity encounter should be an even affair. Heights is on the bottom of the league standings with a 2-7 mark. Glenbard is one step up with a 3-6 record.

The Bards beat Downers by two, while Arlington turned the trick by one and three. Glenbard rates the edge by virtue of its 64-60 overtime win over York last week.

THE FROSH-SOPH game has more at stake as Coach Maurice Klotz' five attempts to keep in the running for second place. LaGrange is four games in front, but Heights is tied with York and Hinsdale for runner-up honors. Glenbard is tied with Riverside for fifth spot, just a game behind second.

In other words, both games should be close affairs, with the Glenbard varsity and Arlington sophomores rating the edge in the double bill.

In other games about the league Downers is at Hinsdale, Riverside travels to LaGrange and York entertains Maine.

Hawks Beat Palatine In North Shore Tilt

The Wheeling Blackhawks remained undefeated in the North Shore basketball league race by beating Palatine, 65 to 41, at Arlington Heights Friday evening.

Vic Heimsoth, Ted Warning, and George "Boom-Boom" Newman had too much scoring power for the A. C.'s of Palatine. Heimsoth totaled 14 points for the individual scoring leadership while Warning and Newman added 12 and 10 points respectively.

Palatine made a fight of it for the first half, which finished with the Blackhawks on the long end of a 28 to 22 score. The loss for Palatine was their set-back in league play.

THE HAWKS return to Arlington Heights Thursday, February 4, where they will play host to the Richmond Zephyrs in two games. First game slated for 7:30 p.m. with no admission charged.

The Hawks travel to Wauconda Sunday, Feb. 7 for a North Shore league game with the team that set a North Shore league scoring record of 107 points in one contest a week ago. Then Monday the Hawks travel to Woodstock to play their opening round game in the McHenry county invitational tournament.

Grenell's Northwest Scoring Lead Narrows To 4 Points

Bill Grenell's scoring lead in the Northwest conference, which earlier has assumed runaway proportions, was narrowed to four points the past week end as Jay Hook of Grayslake boosted his total to 157 on 15 points at Palatine on Friday and 26 against Bensenville Saturday. Meanwhile Grenell tallied a total of 29 while his team was dropped in both games over the week end, and now has 161 in nine games for an 18 point average.

Kenneth Sirotzki of Bensenville, a junior guard, took over third, far behind the leaders with 126 points. Sirotzki leads the circuit in free throws with 52 and his team mate Bob Breese, center, is second in this department with 45.

MIKE HAVILAND, who was challenging Grenell in the early games, has dropped to fourth with 120, but the little Antioch redhead is a real team performer and does a lot of passing off to teammates. Ron Christen, who moved from Warren to Grayslake at the start of last year, is fifth scorer with 119.

Glenn Chaffin, Ela-Vernon's six foot three center, has a better average than those immediately ahead of him with his 115 points inasmuch as Ela has played one less game. This deficit will be made up Saturday when Ela meets Glenbrook in a postponed contest.

Bill Breyer, the tallest player in the league at six-four, playing center for Palatine, is sixth with 114 points.

BENSENVILLE BOYS well up in the points are Pedro Cuatrecasas with 107, Billy Long with 99, and Bob Breese with 95. Palatine has Alan Eck with 98, John Goetz 73, and Pete Abramson 70. Goetz missed the Grant game and Abramson the Bensenville contest, both Palatine defeats.

Glenbrook boys are moving in the scoring with one less game like Ela-Vernon. Bob Boyd has 95 and Ken Schulteis 75. For Ela, Don Prouty has scored 99, Jim Hilbun 89, and Severance 83.

LaGrange Rolls On With 40 Point Win Over Arlington

If ever seven basketball coaches were in agreement, it's the look into the future at the prospects of next season in the West Suburban league minus the LaGrange tall boys, Ted Caiazza, Dave McKeag and Russ Blake, all three standing 6'7" or better.

Once again it was downright disheartening for Arlington Heights cagers as they took the scenic boulevard route to LaGrange, lost 93-53, then returned home. Once again it was a case of hands far above the heads of the local cagers batting away almost every shot attempted around the basket.

THAT HEIGHT, plus ability of the LaGrange squad, is paying off again this year for the Lyons township school. The state champs scored 20 points the opening period, shot up to 29 the second, tapered to 19 the third, then spurted for 25 more the final quarter.

Arlington, meanwhile, couldn't make a single field goal the opening period. After eight free throws and a change of tactics, Heights swished through seven buckets the second quarter for a 29 count at intermission. The payoff at the basket totaled just two buckets each of the final two periods as Coach Lester used his entire bench.

High for LaGrange, of course, was Caiazza with eleven baskets, nine charities for 31 points.

THE FROSH-SOPH game was a different story, though the result was the same, 49-48. LaGrange beat Coach Klotz' five previously, 60-48.

The local sophomores played their best game of the year Friday night, and were ahead one to three points most of the game. LaGrange was big and rugged, but an outstanding 19 of 26 free throws helped keep Heights ahead until the final minutes.

Arlington led, 14-10, the first quarter, and 24-19 at the half. That margin was shortened to 37-36 going into the home stretch.

RANDAG GAVE his best performance of the year, though he suffered a sprained ankle towards the end of the contest. Once again Sujack carried his share of the load, scoring 21 points.

Freisinger and Meyer were top scorers for LaGrange with twelve points apiece. In other league frosh-soph games, Downers walloped Riverside, 49-24, Glenbard upset York, 53-47, and Hinsdale took the measure of Maine, 48-40.

In other words, the tide has changed and early season losers are winning. Arlington, York and Hinsdale are presently tied for second place, four games behind LaGrange and just three games out of last place.

Heights Frosh And JVs Split With Leyden

Arlington's freshman basketball team saw its streak of four straight wins dissipated Saturday morning on the Heights floor when Leyden of Franklin Park repeated its three point victory over Coach Carl Nelson's boys.

The Arlington five had previously lost to Leyden, 39-36. This time it was 45-42. After four losses, three of them by a total of ten points, the frosh finally became a working outfit and took four straight from Maine, Niles, Palatine and Downers Grove. The yearlings now have a 4-5 mark.

ARLINGTON was weak on rebounds, particularly the first half. Heights had plenty of good shots but couldn't make them count, scoring just one bucket the first quarter, then four, four and five the remaining periods.

Seven boys tallied for Heights, as seven did the same for the winners. Halftime tally was 25-15, with Heights outscoring Leyden the final stanza, 17-12.

THE JV GAME netted Heights an even break Saturday morning, 66-54. Coach Howard Lester used eighteen boys with 13 making the scoring column.

A 36-19 halftime margin proved decisive as Lester substituted freely the entire contest, gaining an insight into next year's varsity. Wayne Mueller was tops for the local JV's with 18 points. High for Leyden was Sherry with 11 as nine boys scored.

Next game for both teams is at home against Glenbard this Saturday morning.

Top Man This Time

Top scorer for Palatine in its 80-42 conquest of Grayslake Friday night was Pete Abramson, pictured above as he pushes in another basket.

Fifteen Boys Used As Pirates Double Score On Rams

Coach Gene Moylan's championship minded Palatine Pirates hit for better than 40% for the third game in a row Friday night as they outscored Grayslake's Rams, 80-42, in a game where 15 Palatine boys saw action. Poor shooting in the first quarter held the count to 10-8, but Abramson, Goetz and Hapke led a 22 point second period barrage which doubled the count at 32-16 at the intermission.

Palatine's shooting average improved throughout the game and their rebounding and passing was the best seen by Palatine fans this season. Pete Abramson, who scored five or more points in each quarter, really worked around the basket on offense turning rebounds and interceptions into Palatine points.

Pete duplicated his performance of the opening game of the season and dropped 10 field goals in 17 shots and four out of five free throws for 24 points. Goetz scored 14, and Hapke and Meyer 12 each. Jay Hook, who failed to score in the opening quarter came through with 15 points for Grayslake. Palatine had a decided height advantage on the visitors which paid off heavily in the scoring total.

GRAYSLAKE TOOK a 43-40 decision in the soph game in an overtime. Fred Swanson scored a basket to tie the score in the final minute for Palatine and two Palatine players blew layup shots soon after. In the overtime Hamilton scored for Palatine, but Coon and Soutar got field goals and Stone a free throw to sew it up for the Grayslake boys who won their second game of the season.

After leading the first period Palatine trailed, 22-16, at the half and did not overtake the visitors until late in the final period. Stone and Coon scored 10 each for Grayslake while Swanson had 10 and Hamilton nine for Palatine.

Mt. Prospect Loses YMCA Cage Game

St. Stephen's and Christ Evangelical and Reformed, both of Des Plaines, breezed through their second victories Tuesday in the YMCA church basketball league to hold the strings on first place. Christ Evangelical led First Congregational by a mere two or three points throughout the entire game until the last two minutes of play, when First Congregational lost two men on fouls. At this point, John Prellberg led Christ E & R to a 50-35 victory. John scored 24 points in the thriller.

Good Shepherd Lutheran moved into the victory column by defeating Des Plaines Bible Faith 32-17. A. Hermann and Charles Penrose paced the scoring for Good Shepherd.

ST. STEPHENS, led by the sharpshooting of Bob Sarsany, rolled up a score of 67-42 against Mount Prospect Evangelical Lutheran. Fijach and Dudek of St. Stephens with 15 points each shared scoring honors with Sarsany who tallied 25 points.

Bob Ravens dropped in 12 points for the losers to continue as the league's second high scorer. First Methodist of Arlington was idle this week.

Bowling Tournament

Forty-first annual bowling tournament of the Western Electric company's Hawthorne club will open Saturday, Feb. 27, at the Palace bowl, 5240 W. 25th st., Cicero, and continue for four successive week ends.

More than 2,000 Western Electric bowlers—men and women—from all parts of Chicago and surrounding suburbs are expected to compete for the nine trophies—five for five-member teams, two for doubles, one for singles and one for all events.

Pirates Cop Sixth In Row To Tie For Second Spot In NW

Palatine took a 15-7 lead in the first period at Ela-Vernon Saturday and was never headed as they won their sixth game in a row by a count of 64-53. Ela had whipped the Pirates in the second conference game just after Thanksgiving.

The victory kept the Pirates very much in the running for the championship with a 6-3 record good for a tie with Antioch and Wauconda for second place behind Grant, 7-2. League leading Grant plays at Palatine next week, Thursday.

THE PIRATES seem to have a new scoring leader each game. Saturday night it was Larry Hapke, who has been the leading defensive rebounder who got into the scoring role with 16 points. John Goetz had 12 and Bill Breyer 11 for the Pirates. Glen Chaffin, center, scored 16 and Don Prouty, guard, 17 for Ela-Vernon. Palatine had a 28-18 lead at the half time rest period in a game which was far from smoothly played.

Glenbrook Upsets Grant In Overtime Battle, 57-56

Glenbrook high came through with the upset of the season for the Chicago area Saturday night when they whipped the Northwest league leading Grant Bulldogs, 57-56, in an overtime in the new Glenbrook gym. This is all the more amazing in view of the fact that Glenbrook had lost all their games this season and had not even come close to winning one.

On the other hand, Grant had a 13-3 record for the season, losing all three to Wauconda who had handed them their first league loss in eight starts the previous night, 50-49.

Glenbrook's inspired team should never have had an overtime at that to whip Grant, but for a 24 point last period rally by the visitors, which tied the score after Glenbrook's Spartans had gone into the final segment with a 39-30 advantage.

IN THE OVERTIME Grant scored two points and Glenbrook three with Roland Bizer, who led the game scoring with 16 points, dropping the winning free throw.

In addition to Bizer's 16, Ken Schulteis had 13, and Tom Lay and Bob Boyd 12 points for a balanced scoring attack. Glenbrook won the game on free throws making 17 to Grant's 12. Grant was charged with 20 foul penalties to Glenbrook's 10.

Grant's frosh-sophs remained in a tie for the league lead with a 43-34 victory.

THE GAME of the night between Wauconda and Antioch proved to be no contest as Dick Scott's Antioch Sequoits ran up a 30-14 first half lead and easily outdistanced the Bulldogs, 57-36.

Wauconda was stale after an all out effort beating Grant the previous night, and only Dennis Punches, who racked up 15 points, could find the range. Punches and Smith together got 23 of Wauconda's 36 points from guard positions.

Antioch displayed balanced scoring led by Ben Floyd's 17 aided by Haviland's 11, nine by Brownlee and Palmer, and eight by Don Lass.

Antioch stayed on top with Ela and Grant in the frosh-soph chase with a 56-31 victory.

Arlington Wrestlers Lose To LaGrange

Arlington wrestlers lost a close match to LaGrange Saturday night in the local gym, 22-19, but the Heights frosh-sophs were whitewashed, 48-0. The Lyons township sophomores are undefeated this year, having won 12 straight meets.

After Carlino gained a pin for Coach Dick Mudge in the varsity half, Gregory was pinned, and Pat Harris and Bredfeldt lost decisions. Turk gained a 2-2 draw for Heights at 127. After that Heights took four of seven decisions with Mulso, Schaeffer, Brant and Wilkerson winning their matches.

Brant won a particularly fine bout with Schaeffer giving Courtney of LaGrange his first defeat of the year. The frosh-soph half is better left unsaid insofar as Heights is concerned. Closest matches were a 6-4 loss by Beier at 120, 4-2 loss by Mike Harris at 145, and a 1-0 loss by Harrington at 154.

Vejar Out For Revenge At Stadium Wednesday

Chico Vejar, highly touted welterweight from NYU, gets a chance at revenge in the Chicago Stadium on February 10. He will fight Jed Black, Michigan State's former NCAA champion and winner of 26 out of 27 pro fights.

Vejar was literally knocked out of any title chances at the peak of his career by Chuck Davey, Black's most illustrious stablemate. However, with the exception of his losses to Davey, Vejar's record is still one of the best in boxing. He has lost only four fights, two of them to the sandy haired lefty.

Among Vejar's victims are Italo Scortichini, Vince Martinez and Carmine Fiore. Now Chico has a chance to avenge his Davey defeats at the hands of Hec Knowles' newest welterweight protege.

Saperstein Says Offense Is Killing Basketball For Crowds

Abe Saperstein, the man who took aim and hit the pot of gold in basketball, thinks it's time for big changes in the sport to keep it from killing off customers, according to a story in The Sporting News.

"The game," mourns the owner-coach of the Harlem Globetrotters, "is losing in crowd appeal. It's growing by leaps and bounds as a sport. I mean there are now more teams and more players. But spectator appeal is slipping badly."

He noted that a recent Saturday night college twin-bill at Madison Square Garden drew fewer than 2,000, according to a newspaper report. He has some constructive suggestions, among them the restoration of the jump ball after each basket.

He accuses basketball of creating entirely too much offense. It must have both offense and defense to remain interesting and competitive.

Bensenville Loses To Ela And Grayslake

Led by Don Prouty's 26 points, Ela-Vernon came through on their home court with a 71-57 victory Friday over Coach Novatny's Bensenville Bisons. Ela outpointed the Bisons in all quarters except the final one and held a 36-28 half time advantage. This they increased to 59-39 with a hot third period good for 23 points.

In addition to Prouty's 26 points, Glen Chaffin had 13 and Don Fenner 10. Ken Sirotzki scored 16, Billy Long 15, and Pedro Cuatrecasas 13 for the Bisons. Sirotzki and Cuatrecasas left early on fouls. It was Ela's third victory in seven games and Bensenville's sixth defeat in eight.

Irish-DePaul, Loyola-Dayton Stadium Saturday

Notre Dame's nationally ranked No. 6 basketball team, beaten only twice, will make its first of two visits to Chicago Stadium Saturday night, Feb. 6, against De Paul. The game will be one half of the year's second doubleheader, Loyola facing rangy Dayton in the opener.

The Irish lost only to Indiana, 66-55, and to Bradley, 74-72, both in December, before finding themselves. Along the way of a seven-game winning streak, they toppled previously unbeaten Holy Cross, 83-61, and on January 19 took a 95-74 victory over Purdue, a team that previously had lost to Big Ten leading Indiana, 73-67. Notre Dame thus vaulted into sixth place in the national rankings.

Dick Rosenthal, Joe Bertrand, and Jack Stephens form the triple-barrelled offensive of Coach Johnny Jordan's Notre Dame squad.

De Paul, strengthened by the midyear eligibility of sophomore Bill Robinzine, has been getting yeoman service from Co-Capts. Jim Lamkin and Dan Lecos, Frank Blum and sophomores Ken Jaksy and Ron Sobieszcyck.

LOYOLA will be making its first of three doubleheader appearances at the Stadium against Dayton. Coach George Ireland, his team hampered by injuries and illness earlier in the campaign, is certain the Ramblers at full strength will be far more successful through the February portion of their schedule.

Dayton, ranked 18th nationally, has lost to only the best—to No. 4 rated Western Kentucky in triple overtime, 79-75; to No. 2 undefeated Duquesne and to No. 12 LaSalle. The Flyers last Sunday scored a 66-58 win over Xavier of Cincinnati, a team that came closer than any other to No. 1 Kentucky. Xavier lost to the Wildcats by only 76-71.

Dayton also won twice from perennially strong Seton Hall and on two other occasions, rolled up 98 points against opponents.

Northbrook Sports Club Plans Many Activities For 1954

Northbrook sports club now has a membership of 350, consisting of sportsmen of a variety of interests located in 32 different communities within the proximity of the club, located at County Line and Pfingsten rds.

Aside from the usual interests in sports, the following improvements will be made in the club's activities during the year:

J. F. Day of Evanston has been employed as club manager. Mr. Day is well known among skeet enthusiasts, and will provide instructions to members and non-members.

The new skeet field now under the direction of Jack Walkinshaw, Evanston, plans increased activities throughout the year.

Tony Biagi, Illinois state champion (53), will head the gun committee, and aside from increasing the interest in the promotion of registered shoots, will soon announce a program of schooling under his direction for members and non-members interested in gun handling, gun fit, the theory of lead, and other instructions for the promotion of better shooting. Mr. Biagi will also give private lessons at the club on Saturday morning for those so interested.

Illini Runners To Open Indoor Season At Michigan State

The Big Ten indoor track and field championships in Illinois armory March 5 and 6 and the first Western conference outdoor relays in Memorial stadium May 8 are features of University of Illinois' 1954 track schedule announced by Head Coach Leo T. Johnson.

The Illini, defending Big Ten champs both indoor and outdoor, face competition in eight indoor events and six outdoor meets. Lack of squad depth and balance are pre-season obstacles which Coach Johnson foresees.

Illinois will have several brilliant individual performers, however. Returning are Willie Williams, Big Ten sprint and hurdle champion, Willard Thomson, outdoor high hurdle champ, Ron Mitchell, 1952 high jump titlist, and Cirilo McSween, 1951 and 1952 440 winner. Capt. Joe Corley, Ralph Fessenden, Dick Wham, John Bauer, Dale Foster, Clark Hiller, Bob Kabel, Gene Maynard, and Jim Wright also return from the 1953 squad. Only newcomer upon whom Johnson is depending for points in Big Ten meets is Larry Staff, sophomore shot putter from Vandalia.

First meet for the Illini is the Michigan State relays February 13.

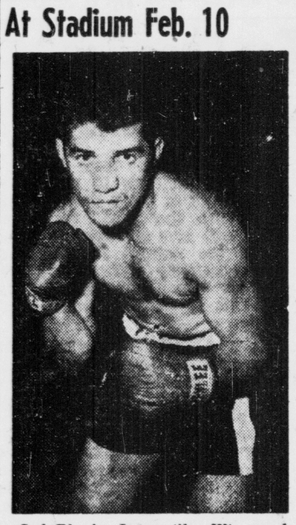

Must Be A Millionaire For Major League Ball In Los Angeles

If and when the major leagues expand to the West Coast and take in Los Angeles, it will take a millionaire, and not some shoestring operator to run the club, judging from some figures cited in The Sporting News. The cost of building a new park is estimated at $6,500,000 and the expense of annual operation will exceed $1,700,000, according to a survey by Phil K. Wrigley, owner of the Cichago Cubs and the Los Angeles Angels.

The rub comes from the fact that a major league club in Los Angeles will not be "an overnight bonanza," unless it develops into an immediate contender. But, as Wrigley pointed out, it is likely the team will have to start out with "culls, mediocre players and undeveloped youngsters," and the process of building up will take "a lot of time and money."

Once the novelty of major league ball wears off and civic enthusiasm fades, promotion alone won't spin the turnstiles in Los Angeles, which is accustomed to "the use of flamboyant Hollywood techniques," the report added. "What would be startling and make a big splash in Cleveland would get yawns in Los Angeles."

Native Dancer Among 108 Nominees For Arlington Handicap

The richest horse in training, Native Dancer, has been nominated to the world's richest grass—the Arlington Handicap, scheduled on Arlington Park's famed turf course next summer for the first time in its 24-year-history and expected to gross $160,000.

The great gray thoroughbred was among 108 horses nominowned by Alfred G. Vanderbilt ated to the lucrative mile-and-three-sixteenths test.

Second payments on the Handicap and six other rich future stakes were due February 1.

It was the first time Native Dancer, a big powerful son of Polynesian-Geisha Girl, has been named for a grass race.

All of the 18-out-of-19 races and the $743,920 he has won in two racing seasons were garnered on dirt courses. He is fourth only to Citation, Stymie and Armed in the all-time money-winning department and was unanimously voted champion of his division as a two-year-old in 1952 and as a three-year-old in 1953.

In his two Chicago appearances last summer Native Dancer captured the $154,300 Arlington Classic, world's richest three-year-old event, and the American Derby at Washington Park, climaxing victories in the Belmont Stakes, Preakness, Wood Memorial and four other major events. His only defeat was a photo-finish second to Dark Star in the Kentucky Derby.

Glenbrook Frosh-Sophs Lose To Antioch, Grant

Losing their first home game, the Glenbrook frosh-sophs were defeated by Antioch, 35-31, Friday night. Even though the game was close, the Spartans didn't get near until the second quarter, when it was 14-13, Antioch. The Glenbrook quintet kept up with the pace through the third quarter, which ended 24-23, and well into the fourth.

High scorer of the game was Sheldon Spalding, who had 12 points for Glenbrook, with Fish, Antioch, and Don Powers, Glenbrook, right behind him with 10 and 9, respectively.

Making it two in a row the Glenbrook frosh-sophs lost to the Grant Bulldogs, 43 to 34, in the new gym Saturday night. High scorer for the game was Sheldon Spalding with 11 points for Glenbrook, and Parr with 10 points for the Bulldogs.

Local Couple Dine With Bowling Champ

The all-star bowling grind is over, but the pace goes on for Mrs. Marion Ladewig, newly crowned women's bowling champion as she continues her exhibitions at bowling alleys throughout the midwest.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Warren, 10 S. Ridge, Arlington Heights, had the pleasure of having dinner with Mrs. Ladewig between exhibitions at Kankakee Saturday night.

"Mrs. Ladewig is the nicest person," stated Mrs. Warren, "and makes you feel you've known her for years."

Wauconda Hands Grant First Defeat, 50-49

Second place Wauconda handed Grant high of Fox Lake their first Northwest conference loss of the season last Friday when they rallied from a seemingly hopeless disadvantage to beat the league leaders, 50-49. Wauconda trailed 31-17 at the half and 40-30 going into the final quarter.

Dan Gorman, substitute guard, scored the clincher in the last minute of play to put Wauconda in front, 50-48.

Then as the buzzer sounded, a foul was called and Lambert had a chance to send the battle into overtime. He made the first one, but the second rolled in and out.

Both teams made 15 field goals and were assessed 25 fouls but Wauconda made 20 free throws to Grant's 19. Grant lost Bein and Bettis on fouls while Wauconda finished without Nolan, Smith and Punches.

Bill Grenell scored 18 for Grant to boost his total for eight games to a league leading 150. Gene Jaskot, sophomore forward, poured in 18 for Wauconda and led the last half assault which changed certain defeat into victory.

AFTER A CLOSE first period, Antioch had everything their own way as they trounced Glenbrook Friday night in the new Glenbrook gym opening, 60-36. Glenbrook frosh-sophs put up a fine game in the prelim before dropping a 35-31 decision to the league leaders.

Glenbrook led the varsity game at the quarter, 7-6, but could not keep up the pace fading to 23-14 at the half. Schulteis had 11 and Boyd eight for Glenbrook's Spartans while Ben Floyd with 13 and Don Lass with 12, were top scorers for Antioch's Sequoits.

You can boost yields 5 bushels per acre— with a McCormick® Model M

Grain Drill

Three-year tests at a midwestern agricultural college compared broadcast seeding at the rate of 4 bushels an acre with drilling at the rate of 3 bushels per acre. Results: Average yield of drilled seed was 5.3 bushels per acre more than broadcast seeding!

Here are three reasons why you can get better stands and bigger yields with a McCormick drill: 1. Each of the feeds measures out exactly the same amount of seed; 2. You can regulate the seeding rate within ounces; 3. You can control seeding depth within a fraction of an inch.

We would like to tell you more about the drill and broadcast seeder comparison—and McCormick drills. Stop in when you're in town.

See Less Cash Income For Farmers In '54

The nation's farmers face a possible 10 per cent drop in their 1954 net cash income according to the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago. This would push farm cash income after expenses to the lowest point since 1943.

In its monthly review, "Business Conditions," the bank asserts that behind the shrinking inflow of dollars to farmers are sagging farm prices. If, as expected, prices received by farmers level off slightly below the December figure, they will still be 5 per cent under last year's average.

MOREOVER, the softness in farm prices will not be fully offset by a drop in costs of production. Prices paid by farmers for production materials are expected to decline only slightly.

In view of this cloudy profit outlook, the bank sees a continued downtrend in midwest farm land values during the current year. Land values hit their peak in 1952 and settled slowly through last year. On January 1, 1954, value of the nation's farm real estate was some 7 per cent lower than a year earlier.

The "cost-price squeeze"—now being experienced by farmers—is not a new development. Just after the Korean war began, prices shot up 25 per cent to make 1951 an exceptionally profitable year. Farm expenses increased, too, though at a slower rate. Since that time, however, prices have been declining while costs of production have remained relatively constant.

CAUSES of the slump in farm prices to date have been (1) an ever-mounting supply of farm products and (2) declining agricultural exports. But now, as the volume of food produced begins to level off and the drop in farm exports halts, a new source of weakness is in the making: total income and employment across the nation show signs of easing off.

Personal income stopped its climb as early as six months ago as the U.S. economy passed a production peak. If income and employment decline in 1954, the drop would directly affect the amount of money John Doe is willing to spend for food. This, in the face of more than ample supplies of agricultural products, could lead to further weakness in farm prices.

As to the over-all farm financial situation, the bank reports agriculture is still in a sound financial position. Total farm debt is less than 10 per cent of the current value of farm assets, in contrast to the 18 per cent which prevailed in 1940.

Name Officers Of 4-H Club Fair Board

Martin C. Meyer was elected president of the North-Cook 4-H fair association at a meeting of the board last week. Elected vice president was Wm. Linneman, secretary Steven Csanadi and treasurer A. H. Franzen. Other members of the board are Henry Eichholz, L. W. Pohlman and Roy Hecht.

The board discussed plans for the 1954 4-H fair and horse show. The dates of the fair have not definitely been set as of this writing.

Palatine Sow Brings Top Price At Sale

A Palatine sow owned by Spring Creek farm, Plum Grove rd., drew top price at the Illinois Yorkshire breeders' association show and sale at Princeton Saturday. The sale was held at the Bureau county fair grounds with a southern Illinois hog named grand champion.

But the animal owned by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wiley of Palatine couldn't read the blue ribbon and topped the champ in price by $105. The Spring Creek farm bred gilt sow sold for $505.

Manager of the farm, and the man most responsible for weight and condition of the animal, is Melvis Mossman.

That Extra "Hired Hand" on Farm . . . . Here's How to Fix His Aches and Pains

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

You may have a patient around the farm or in your home that needs expert attention. Chances are that he's overworked; just has too much to do,

Tamper-proof switch box? Could be; it's located in this farmer's bull pen with an ample guardian on hand.

and doesn't have the capacity to handle the loads placed on him. Wonder drugs won't help, but amputation of that small service entrance panel and the grafting on of a larger one; "shots" of additional circuits, bigger wire and more convenience outlets will help give him the lift needed to make your electric equipment hum as it should.

The patient referred to, of course, is an ailing wiring system. It's easy to recognize the symptoms. Here they are, along with usual causes and remedies for each:

Frequent tripping of circuit breakers or blowing of fuses.* CAUSE—overloaded circuits. Remedy—subdivide circuits, providing individual circuits for important equipment.

Dimming or blinking of lights when motors start.* CAUSE—motors on same circuits with lights. Remedy—provide separate circuits of adequate size for motors.

Uneven operation of farm equipment motors.* CAUSE—may be due to low voltage. Look for circuit runs of small wire, and several devices on same circuit. Remedy—separate circuits for each motor driven device, each of proper wire size.

Heating appliances, including range, water heaters, brooding equipment, etc., slow to reach proper temperature.* CAUSE—circuit wires too small. Remedy—replace with proper size wires.

Excessive use of extension cords and multiple receptacles (cube taps).* CAUSE—not enough outlets. Remedy—install outlets on planned basis.

Tripping of main circuit breakers or blowing of main fuses at service location, without apparent reason.* CAUSE—service too small. Remedy—install larger service.

Improved Tests For Checking Body Fat And Feed Efficiency

Improved tests for checking the proportion of body fat and feed efficiency of live animals may soon help breeders produce the type of meat consumers demand, reports National Live Stock Producer, the nation's leading live stock magazine.

And consumers' tastes do vary. The prime and choice beef with a good covering of fat and well-marbled brings the highest price. Yet the exact opposite is required to meet the demand for pork. Here, consumers want lean meat with as little fat as possible and yet retain the amount of finish to have tender, tasty pork.

Add these two requirements to the feeder's demand for animals that make the largest gains from the least amount of feed and you get a picture of the problem facing the nation's breeders.

IN THE PAST, the amount of fat in the animal's carcass could be determined only after the animal was slaughtered. This made selection of breeding animals a rather haphazard situation regarding the natural ability of an animal to convert feed into meat, both lean and fat, and also the proportion of fat to lean, since selections had to be based on the performance of related animals.

Now researchers have developed three methods to determine the amount of fat in the live animals with the hope that these tests will give an accurate index as to the natural fleshing and feed efficiency abilities the live animals may be expected to transmit to their offspring.

THE ANTIPYRINE fat test developed by Bureau of Animal Industry research men uses the drug, antipyrine, injected into the blood stream as a measure of the water content of the body. After a period of time, 2½ hours with cattle, samples of the blood are taken to determine the rate of absorption for the antipyrine. This figure, plus a standard composition figure for the muscle, bone, and water portion of the body allows the scientists to determine what portion of the body weight is fat.

Another test worked out by researchers at Texas Agricultural Experiment Station may give the answers to a question cattle feeders have wanted, "Which calf will make the best gain in the feedlot?"

THIS IS A TEST which measures the protein-bound iodine in the blood stream. Checks on 300 animals in the college herd were so near 100% accurate that an optimum range was determined. Slaughter tests proved animals with a protein-bound iodine level above or below this range made below average gains in the feedlot. While this test is still in an experimental stage, the potential seems excellent.

An actual measurement test for the thickness of the back-fat of hogs by "probing" has been worked out by scientists at Iowa State College. This method consists of making a small incision through the skin and measuring the depth of the fat layer between the skin and the muscle with a narrow metal ruler.

The measurements checked so far correlate closely to slaughter tests and may prove a means of determining which animals to keep for the breeding herd to produce the meat-type hogs wanted by the consumers.

Here's How To Cut Down Rabies Threat

Dr. R. E. Witter of the University of Illinois College of Veterinary Medicine says that rabies can strike any time of the year.

In fact, cases of rabies often show up in the late winter and early spring as well as during the summer. At this time, animals are roaming the countryside looking for food and mates.

Here's how you can help cut down the rabies threat this year:

VACCINATE your pets.

If any cases of rabies show up in your neighborhood, keep your pet in the house, in a pen, leashed, or muzzled.

If your pet acts like he may have rabies, take him to your veterinarian.

If you are bitten by any animal, wash the bite with plenty of soap and water. See your Doctor at once.

IF THE ANIMAL which bit you can be caught, he will be locked up until veterinarians know if he had rabies. If you can't catch the animal and have to kill it, don't shoot it through the head. Pack the head in ice and express it to the nearest laboratory at the state department of public health or the college of veterinary medicine at Urbana. If you can't be sure the animal did not have rabies, you should take a special series of shots to prevent rabies from developing. Otherwise you may die.

Rabies takes two forms in animals. Dogs having the "dumb" form are listless, become paralyzed and die within a week. "Furious" rabies is more common. At first the dog may try to eat wood, stones and dirt. Later he will go mad and run around biting anything in his way before he becomes paralyzed and dies.

No Shortage Of Milk Seen On Farms

Consumers need not worry about the shortage of milk states Martin C. Meyer district chairman of the Pure Milk association. All beverage drinkers can get all the milk they want to drink at a reasonable price. Milk is the most nearly complete, most nourishing food on the market. A food when consumed correctly will furnish more energy at the least cost of any food known.

Scientists have proven one can reduce on a dairy diet and due to the abundance of riboflavin in milk, people will remain younger looking for longer periods of time. Milk also aids in the correct function of the digestive system.

The next time you go out for a drink make it a glass of delicious wholesome milk for good health.

Flexible Supports More Practical Than Fixed

Flexible price supports are more practical than fixed supports in accomplishing the original objectives of "parity for agriculture" idea, according to H. C. M. Case, head of the department of agricultural economics at the University of Illinois.

The original idea of parity was to maintain farm income, or buying power, at a level somewhat near that of other groups, Case explains.

If farm production stayed the same year after year, fixed price supports would accomplish this objective. But, he points out, crop production varies widely from year to year.

TAKE THE 1951 wheat crop which was half again as large as normal, for instance. When the price of such a large crop is supported at 90 per cent of parity, farm income from the crop is actually 135 per cent of normal.

Nobody resents the farmer getting such a break, but the high guaranteed price encourages more production of the same crop the next year, Case explains.

Flexible supports protect the farmer against low prices, he says. A price support on the large 1951 wheat crop of 75 per cent of parity would have given the farmer an income of 105 per cent of normal. And 75 per cent is the lowest support price under the flexible support plan.

IN CASE OF a short crop, Case continues, the flexible plan allows supports up to 90 per cent of parity. "Flexible price supports don't mean low supports," he points out, "but rather they mean a stable income resulting from lower supports for large crops and high supports for normal or short crops."

Flexible supports for large crops would make it easier for foreign countries to buy our surpluses and would encourage heavier home use of surplus crops.

There are actual danders in continued high supports, Case believes. Butter and cotton are two good examples. With prices of these products supported high, consumers look for substitutes, and other industries are encouraged to develop substitutes.

Breeding Swine Must Be Tested

All swine over four months of age sold for breeding purposes or that are exhibited in the state, must first be blood-tested and found free of brucellosis.

Dr. G. T. Woods of the University of Illinois college of veterinary medicine says that before 1953 only boars had to have this test.

The last state general assembly repealed the old law, however, and passed a new swine brucellosis law. If you do not cooperate in the program, you can be fined up to $500. Here is what you must do under the new law:

* * *

IF YOU SELL any breeding swine over four months old or offer the services of any boar, you must have the animal blood-tested and found free of brucellosis within 60 days of the date of sale or service. Your veterinarian may be able to make this test, or else he will send a blood sample to a state laboratory at Aurora, Centralia, Peoria, or the University of Illinois.

the services of any animal, you

Every time you resell or offer must have it tested. You must always send the certificate along with the animal showing it had a negative reaction to the brucellosis blood test.

If you plan to exhibit any swine within the state, you must have them tested within 90 days of the date of exhibition. The certificate showing that the animal is negative to the brucellosis test must go along with the animal.

IF YOU BRING any swine into Illinois from other states to use for breeding or exhibition, they must be accompanied by a health certificate from the state of origin. This certificate must state that the animal was blood-tested and found not to have brucellosis within 30 days of the time they are shipped in.

If any of your animals show a positive reaction to the brucellosis blood test, you must tag them in their left ear. They can't be sold or used for breeding stock or exhibition, and can only be sold for slaughter.

You can get a copy of the new swine brucellosis law by writing to the Illinois State department of agriculture division of livestock industry, Fairgrounds, Springfield.

FFA Starts Project Of Raising Purebreds

The Future Farmers of America chapter of the Arlington Heights high school has started a new project of raising purebreds.

They recently bought a gilt and decided that Henry Raupp would raise it and the offspring until next fall. Then he will turn over to the FFA two of the offspring, keeping the rest of the litter. The FFA has an interest in the management and financing of the project at least until the pigs are turned over to them.

The FFA in turn will give the gilts to two boys who will raise them and return two of each litter in the fall.

When the boys are no longer interested in raising a litter, the pigs will be sold and the FFA will collect interest.

Lids on Cabinet Door

ROUND-KNOBBED lids of cooking utensils may be neatly stored inside a cabinet door where they will be both accessible and occupying otherwise waste space. Here are directions for making this handy storage unit:

Measure the door and obtain a piece of Masonite ⅛" Tempered Presdwood which covers the interior excepting for one-half inch on all sides. If the door is paneled, there will be room between the cabinet door and the Presdwood for the knobs to fit into openings the shape of large keyholes. If the interior is one plane from one side to another, it will be necessary to install a strip of lumber about one inch thick as a perimeter.

Lay out the round-knobbed lids on the Presdwood so that their positions may be marked. With a bit and brace, bore holes about one-quarter inch larger than the knobs. Underneath each, with a keyhole saw, complete the oversized keyhole, forming a slot into which the neck of the knob will fit. The final step is to fasten the panel to the interior of the door with finishing nails. The panel may be left unfinished or painted.

First Federal Savings Top Level Promotions

Walter L. Plew was elected president of First Federal Savings and Loan Association and Dr. Arthur M. Purves was elevated from the presidency to chairman of the board at an organizational meeting Wednesday, January 20. At the association's annual meeting Dr. C. J. Hill, George W. Kinder, and John Tures were re-elected directors for three year terms.

Mr. Plew founded the association March 15, 1934, and has been closely identified with First Federal Savings since that time. Miss Loretta A. Schnur who has been with the Association for 14 years was elected vice-president.

Savings and loans reached an all time high in 1953 at First Federal Savings. The total assets of $10,146,505.43 increased in 1953, $2,879,624.24 or a percentage gain of 39.6 per cent. Mr. Plew pointed out the gain is accounted for by activity in savings which increased $2,367,256.73 by additions to present accounts and 2202 new accounts. Mortgage loan total rose to a new high of $7,937,672.29.

Directors of the association are Dr. C. J. Hill, Otto W. Johns, George W. Kinder, Leonard E. Manuel, Kenneth G. Meyer, Walter L. Plew, Dr. A. M. Purves and John Tures.

The new officials of First Federal Savings and Loan association are Dr. A. M. Purves — chairman of the board, W. L. Plew — president, Leonard E. Manuel and Loretta A. Schnur — vice-president, Paul E. Shaw Jr. and William E. Tepe — assistant vice-presidents, John A. Eagleson — secretary-treasurer and Frances A. Milbrandt — assistant treasurer.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

For thousands of years, the blind, halt or lame have been considered a waste product in human economy During the past 25 years, however, a new concept has been growing. Business leaders, manufacturers, economists, the medical profession have begun to re-evaluate human ability. They are beginning to find that missing legs, arms and eyes are not so great a handicap as the world has always believed. In fact, "handicapped" people are beginning to show they can often do better work than people in full possession of their members.

Take the case of "Abilities Incorporated." Here is an organization made up entirely of handicapped people, organized "not for profit," which made a profit within seven months time to turn back into equipments and new buildings which will make more jobs for "handicapped" people. Men without legs, some without arms, others with a leg and arm missing, others blind, have proven to be better workers than employees without such "handicaps."

THEIR LOYALTY to the company is often greater because their opportunities are limited; and besides, they have something to prove. They are trying to prove, and succeeding admirably, that the loss of a member of the body or its use does not necessarily constitute a handicap.

They are proving, too, that the human spirit, in possession of a sound mind, determination and persistence, is inconquerable. They are proving that true strength does not always lie in bulging biceps or physical health. They are proving that countless millions of so-called "normal" persons do not produce to the best of their ability; that because they lack pride and responsibility in their work, they are truly handicapped.

THEY ARE PROVING that the answer to the question, "what is a handicapped person?" is to be found in terms of ability, determination, pride of workmanship and personality. The number of such organizations as "Abilities Incorporated" is increasing. Perhaps you and I, in possession of "normal" bodies and minds, should each ask ourself: "Am I a handicapped person?"

Shuman On Safety Committee At White House Feb. 17-19

Recently appointed chairman of the farm group of the conference by secretary of commerce Sinclair Weeks, Shuman will help map a highway safety program aimed at reducing the nation-wide highway toll by 40 per cent in the next 12 months.

The IAA president was named chairman of the group representing farmers. The IAA is the state-wide farm bureau organization.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

FROM PATTY McARDLE

Dear Peg:

Except for the unfortunate circumstances under which I received the ticket, I was very happy to have a seat at a recent afternoon concert of the Chicago symphony. You see, Mother McA was ill and unable to attend, so she suggested that I use her ticket.

It had been more than a year since I had heard our fine orchestra, and enjoying most symphonic music as I do, I had missed it. But, somehow, a mother of a growing family who has just a couple of extra-curricular activities finds that almost every minute of the day is taken up. To say nothing of the fact that this growing family usually faces a diminishing bank account, which leaves a negligible (you might even say "microscopic") amount for baby sitter fees. However, I felt justified in asking Mrs. Conder to come over and stay with Megan and Bridget, since I had a nice free ticket to Orchestra Hall, and probably few opportunities like this again soon. (Now, there's good female logic for you—don't you dare call it "rationalizing").

I WAS QUITE ANXIOUS all the way into town for fear I wouldn't arrive on time. Why is it that children, normally so unpredictable, can be counted on to dream up some diabolical scheme to delay you when you are most pressed for time and just about ready to dash out of the door? I shan't discuss Bridget's delay-Mother-plan which she waited all morning, until the minute I was to leave, to execute, as it is of a rather indelicate nature having much to do with her recent "training." At any rate, the ten minute delay was enough to worry me all the way into Chicago.

Fortunately, I arrived before 2:00 and even had a chance to greet Mrs. King (Mother McA's friend and concert partner), and read about the first number. I was disappointed to read that Fritz Reiner was on a two month vacation, as I was looking forward to seeing the conductor whom Chicago seems to have taken to its notoriously fickle heart. My disappointment increased as I watched guest conductor, Ernest Ansermet (who looks for all the world like a small edition of Monty Wooley) lead the orchestra through a droning Schumann symphony that almost put me to sleep.

THEN CAME THE METAMORPHOSIS. With the first strains of Debussy's "Clouds," Ansermet became part of the music and the music became part of him, and with his gestures he sustained the dreamy, magical quality of this nocturne to the end. From the delicate nature of this composition, he swept the orchestra into the gay, lusty "Festivals"—second of the two Debussy numbers.

During the intermission, I had a chance to read a little about Ansermet and learned that he is the founder and permanent conductor of L'Orchestre de la Suisse Romande in French Switzerland, and has fulfilled guest engagements yearly with the Berlin Philharmonic Royal Philharmonic Society and London Philharmonic. He also has conducted in Mexico City, Buenos Aires and the Hollywood Bowl. His recording of Stravinsky's "Petrouchka" received the Annual Recorded Music Award for 1946 as the best foreign recording released in the U. S. This is his seventh appearance with the Chicago Symphony.

ROUSSEL'S "SUITE, F MAJOR, OPUS 33" was an intricate composition which ran the gamut, from a crashing full orchestra to the tiny, ting-a-ling of the triangle. In each movement, a lovely melody was begun with a few instruments, then with increasing pace and volume, it reached a spectacular climax.

"Rapsodie Espagnole," by Ravel, after the "Prelude a la Nuit" movement—a soft, sweet theme whose spell is broken only by what seems to be the trill of a bird—was as colorful and exciting as the Spanish and Cuban dancers who inspired it.

I left Orchestra Hall enchanted and, of course, promised myself it wouldn't be another year again before I heard the symphony play. Well, maybe it won't be,

My love,
Patty.

QUITE CONTRARY

BY MARY

Arlington can still hold up its head in pride and maintain its record of always providing school space when it is needed. As we have said so often that our friends just shudder when we say it, this is one of the few towns in this part of the country that sees the need for more and bigger schools before the little students are lapping up knowledge in a church cellar.

Don't get us wrong. We have nothing at all against church cellars. Some of the nicest cellars we know are in churches. It is just that we think a school is a nicer place to absorb schooling.

According to last week's Fence Post, there are some in town who are downright frightened over a proposed increase in the tax rate to pay for the schools.

We well understand their fear as any increase in the price of anything from a mousetrap on up leaves us shaking our heads and stretching the dollar. We are afraid that the latex in the buck is about to give out.

Still, it seems that to start economizing by short-changing the youth of the nation is the wrong jumping off place. There are probably a lot of people in all suburban towns who are not blessed (?) with school aged children. However, the majority of suburbia abounds in the little dears. That's why parents move from the comfortable big city to the sometimes inconvenient country.

So far, there appears to be enough far-sighted parents around who know that if they had to send their budding geniuses to private school, the cost would be far greater than any tax a government is allowed to levy. So, with head held high and purse swinging low, we will continue to vote aye to any school proposal that the overworked members of the school boards choose to put before us. After all, they have to pay the taxes too. Heh, heh, heh.

We are at present engaged in a campaign of propaganda against birthday parties after the age of nine has been reached.

We aren't doing too well with it as ours of that age had a wonderful time at their own last week end and the loot taken in exchange for lunch is unbelievable. They are firm believers in the good old slogan that the end perfectly justifies the means.

We aren't sure that they have the right idea as all the cologne taken in is a little too sweet for our use and our legs still ache from pounding up and down the basement stairs. Maybe by next year the shock of twenty screaming women of nine will have worn off. At the moment, we have sworn off.

THE FENCE POST

Letters to the Fence Post should be short and concise. All letters must be signed, though name will be withheld if desired. Address Fence Post, Paddock Publications, Inc., Arlington Heights, Ill.

Wounded Dog

So stray dogs are to be picked up by the police and the owners fined. That is as it should be. It was just one week ago today that we found our dog lying in back of the house with a bullet wound in his hip, and also the bullet. He had been missing for two days. Probably took him most of that time to drag himself home. When we called the police station to inquire about our dog, the officer at the desk was very courteous, even described the dog that was in the pound at the time. We had made every possible effort to find our "stray."

What would be the fine had the police picked up our dog, compared with the agony endured by our dog and the eleven dollars that it cost to have the bullet removed, etc? We would much prefer the police had found the dog and treated him well until fine was paid.

And to whoever shot our dog, may I ask that next time you notify the police to pick up the dog instead of shooting him? Especially when only one of you is armed. Our dog is recovering nicely. We take turns carrying him outside twice daily until he is better able to walk. For you see, he is very much of a gentleman and hence well mannered. Should you care to reimburse us for medical costs because of your fine aim, the name and address are quite plain.

Live And Let Live

A member of Rolling Meadows Home Owners' Association asks why a shopping center is necessary out there. With 1,400 homes coming in, even a person with holes in his head could have enough foresight to visualize the need for a shopping center.

Arlington merchants have all the business they can take care of from town without soliciting more. They are not that dollar hungry. They are from the town of good neighbors and believe in living and let live. Nothing could be better for a new community than a handy shopping center and it seems only a very selfish person and for selfish purposes would make a recommendation to exclude not only a convenience but a necessity. After all, Rolling Meadows belongs to Palatine, so why cry to us.

Planned Shopping

The controversy that has been going on over the rezoning of a few lots along Wilke rd., seems to be way off beat, as I see it.

In the first place, I'm inclined to agree with "Old Timer" on two points: (1) the facilities in Arlington Heights will not be adequate to handle the increased population when all the homes in Rolling Meadows are occupied; (2) a group of well-planned, attractive stores with adequate parking space provided, is not a detriment to property values.

But, as I understand it, the present rezoning is a "spot" rezoning of convenience rather than a foresighted, planned complete shopping area such as would be a compliment to both Arlington Heights and their new Rolling Meadows neighbors.

"Old Timer" perhaps is not familiar with the "Master Plan" for Rolling Meadows which includes a planned, balanced shopping area within our community and which should absorb most of the "chaos" he refers to.

I think if the present spot rezoning is allowed for the purposes of supermarkets, or other stores, it will be a handicap to the development of a proper shopping area within Rolling Meadows and thus detrimental to both Arlington Heights and their new neighbors. This Rolling Meadows shopping area, we have been told, will be under way this summer, economic conditions allowing, which is a good enough reason to me for objecting to rezoning on Wilke rd. at this time.

James, Not Charles

On the front page of your Palatine Enterprise of January 21, I find you have erroneously used my name in a news article. I am not the man who made headlines at the Palatine village board meeting. The person was James O'Hara of Oak and Colfax st.

I am gainfully employed, am a member of the Palatine Lions club, a member of Palatine Masonic Lodge 314 and live at 574 S. Benton st. in Palatine.

I have been annoyed many times by being mistaken for this other O'Hara, and the article you published is the last straw.

More 'Oldest' Residents

FRANK PETTEE

Your story in last week's paper about the "oldest man in Palatine" was interesting, but not quite accurate. Here at the Plum Grove Nursing Home we have two residents who are older than Mr. Folleth. One is Frank Pettee, 96, formerly of Chicago. Mr. Pettee is very active, frequently going for long walks about the village. His favorite extravagance is smoking big black cigars.

MRS. EMMA BALL

Mrs. Emma Ball is another one of our qualified voters nearing the century mark. She admits 94½ years, but you know a woman's reluctance to reveal her true age. Mrs. Ball's hobby is knitting and crocheting, and she does excellent work with the needle.

These two venerable citizens are well informed on current affairs and are much interested in events in Palatine — their home town.

Dislikes Sharpie

How can the buyer of goods and services defend himself against the sharp and even cheating practices of many of our tradespeople? What can we do to destroy or at least to weaken the principle of "let the buyer beware?" How can we keep from being "taken."

Just the other day I had such an experience with a local businessman. I paid more than four times the price authorized. Maybe the extra work was done as this "gentleman" claimed, and maybe it was needed, but in my opinion the extra work was not needed and possibly not even done. Certainly it was not authorized and once again, I feel I have been cheated, but am unable to prove it.

It is true that in time a man's reputation and business will be ruined if he deals sharply too often, but that is small solace to those of us who have lost money in the process.

In the final analysis, such cheating can be stopped only by the knowledge and wisdom of the buyer, but I for one, lack the necessary knowledge if not the wisdom.

Therefore, I propose the faculty of our high school design an adult evening course in which we can learn to detect and prevent sharp business practices.

Not That Water

I was much surprised to see in your January 21 edition a story from a small town engineer as to a water supply for the Des Plaines valley. As bug-house as the idea might be, it has served the purpose as to bring to the attention of the people a matter I suggested some 20 years ago—the solving of which will require the services of an engineer of many years experience.

In 1917 I went over the source of New York's water supply in the Catskills—everywhere you turned was a sign—"COMMIT no NUISANCE," Under Penalty of the Law" and the ground was as clean as could be.

I do not know just how many gallons the city manager expected to pump against a head of sixty feet or more, but government bulletins show the evaporation in small streams will be from one to one and a half inches per day. That will be a few millions of gallons extra pumping each day.

There are hundreds of small sewers running into the river and I do not think that I would care to drink the water even if it was ever so filtered.

You will note I am a tunnel engineer and have had much experience in water supplies. The question will require much thought and one must know the condition of Lake Michigan from which we must obtain our supply.

The idea of a metropolitan water district might be the proper outlet, but why should Chicago pay for tunnels and pumps beyond her boundaries when her present system was planned to supply the incorporated area of Chicago.

Sincerely yours,
Edgar A. Rossiter
Consulting Engineer

New High School

Here in Arlington Heights, we have the township high school, surrounded by spacious grounds and equipped to handle around 1500 students; present enrollment is 1300. There is a gymnasium, too, but it proved too small for athletic and other activities, so a few years back we were asked to vote a bond issue to build a new one; and we, the taxpayers, arose nobly to the occasion and voted $985,000, thus erecting the third largest high school gymnasium in the whole state of Illinois, capable of taking care of an enrollment of some 2000 students or more. Now, when the school board asked for, and received, the funds to erect this wonderful building, it surely must have planned, when necessity required, to add to the present class rooms, etc. There is plenty of space all around the present high school to take care of the enrollment the gymnasium was built to accommodate; as a matter of fact, the old gymnasium, which could be converted to class rooms, is being diverted to other use!

However, the board apparently realized the ease with which it is possible to put through a bond issue of any size, so last year our good citizens were asked to vote on the purchase of 60 acres for a spanking new high school, to be located on Foundry rd., less than a mile and a half from the present one. This transaction was put over on such short notice that only one tenth of the voters were even aware of what was going on.

NOW WE'RE REALY getting ready to roll—and be "rolled." NOW we're going to be asked to vote on increasing the school tax rate to enable the board to erect a $2,500,000 high school on the new site, and the additional terrific costs to maintain it!

We all want our children to have the finest educational facilities possible, but we don't have to go to such extravagant lengths to achieve it. There is no doubt, the most crying need at the moment is to provide grade school accommodations for youngsters who won't be ready for high school for six or seven years to come. The grade schools have, in the past, consistently waited for expansion until the demand warranted it; now, if we appropriate this terrific sum for another high school, we'll be getting dangerously close to our bonding capacity, so, in the long run, the grade schools will suffer.

It is easy enough to be generous with other peoples' money—yours and mine; but there aren't many of us who can afford to have our dollars spent extravagantly. Our great trouble is, when we are asked to vote these bond issues, we just don't give the matter proper thought, so consequently don't even bother to go to the polls; we're the "Silent Ones," all right, when it comes to voting, but one thing is sure: we'll all be yelling our heads off when we get our tax bills if this thing goes through. The sad thing is that it will then be too late to do anything about it, and we'll just have to dig deeper into the old bank roll, which is getting mighty low, due to taxes and high living costs.

Dog Control

It seems the dog lovers are trying to persuade the village of Bensenville to get rid of their pet snatchers and also trying to make others put up with their so called pets.

There is nothing wrong with pets as long as they are kept at home or on a leash and not be allowed to run free to damage and spray other people's property. I have dug up two evergreens and will have to dig up another soon because of the lovable pets, and I must be careful where I step on my lawn.

This morning when I left for work, there were five dogs on my front lawn, or should I say horses, about that size anyway.

And don't forget, these people love these dogs because they are running free all day in mud, rain and all kinds of weather. I wonder if they sleep with them.

I hope the day is near when the State passes a law so that all dogs must be tied, or in a yard, or be accompanied by the owner. I am sure a Christian doesn't make other people put up with this kind of nuisance.

Just yesterday there was an article in the news where a child died because of a dog bite. You may love them, but I'm fed up with them.

A Dog Lover,
Bensenville

Cyclists Watch Out!

May parents once again be "reminded to remind" their children that icy streets are risky thoroughfares. I have witnessed the past week in Arlington Heights more than one near tragedy. For your own life, and for the sake of the conscience of automobile drivers, please do not venture out on icy roads. One slip of the bicycle and you place yourself completely at the mercy of a skidding automobile, skidding to avoid striking you. A driver cannot be blamed when road conditions make it impossible for him to protect your safety.

Al Kehe
Arlington Heights.

First Robin

Yesterday afternoon at approximately 1:15 on Palatine rd., one mile east of Barrington rd., I had the pleasure of seeing the first robin of the season. He was a full grown male with a fine red breast.

Inasmuch as this robin has arrived and it is only one more day until Ground Hog day (official prophecy day for Spring), it would appear we will have an early spring this year, in fact, we can safely say spring is practically here.

Anyone else?

Editor Tells Story of 'Five Weeks Before the Mast'

Eighteenth Installment

by STUART R. PADDOCK

The Constitution, which represented the navy of the United States nearly 150 years ago, did as valiant service fighting England as our ships of today did against Japan and Hitler. After returning to this country after five weeks in modern ships, we stopped at the Boston navy yard last October to give the Constitution a look-in. Above is shown only one tier of cannon, there was a second on the deck below.

GUNNERY

While a carrier, the size of the Bennington, is a large floating ammunition arsenal, I discovered this morning its own defense weapons are limited to comparatively small three and five inch guns.

The greater part of the ammunition deck, six flights below the hanger deck, is used to store bombs, rockets and other ammunition. They were full up. The real purpose of the three and five inch guns is to destroy attacking aircraft.

We were told today that the labor of a thousand men working three 24 hour days is required to fill the magazines, each of which can only be reached through special hatches. In case of fire, any one magazine can be automatically flooded.

While in the fuse compartment of one of the magazines, the guide picked up a small can, which appeared to be the size of a small can of peas. He asked the magazine guard what would happen if he dropped it. The reply was, "Just don't drop it." He gingerly laid it in its rack.

THE BOMBS AND rockets are carried to the flight deck by special elevators. Even in peacetime the magazines of U. S. carriers are full, ready for possible emergency.

There was real gun-shooting the first two days of our trip, and it was not until we were approaching the Arctic circle that the loud speaker carried the message, "Smoking lamp is out for handling ammunition." Elevators brought up bombs and gun ammunition from the magazines deep in the ship to the flight deck for use of planes that were to have the opportunity of "real firing" against isolated spots in Iceland and on icebergs.

The weather was "flying zero" and the planes could not take off and later in the day ammunition was returned to the magazine, during which there was no smoking. Incidently the marines policing the ship see to it that nobody indulges in cigarettes when the "smoking lamp is out."

It took two years in the naval yards to recondition this ship after it was taken out of moth balls in 1950. It was lengthened and strengthened to allow the new heavy aircraft to operate off its deck.

The cost of that work was over $60 million. Today it is a floating airfield, with its own guns for protection.

ON EXERCISE Mariner its crew and fliers are getting experience in battle conditions, while naval officials in Washington plot out war games that are expected to devise the ways and means to keep enemies away from United States, the arsenal of the world.

THE GUNNERY department really has almost complete charge of the welfare of the ship. On men and 21 officers, "and we need more," said the gunery officer.

Basically, this department has the responsibility of keeping the ship clean, inside and out, by scrubbing, painting and repair work.

Fire control is also part of their job, which includes policing the ship while in port, watching the gangway, manning and operating the motor launches, the captain's gig, whaleboats, life boats, etc.

The handling of the two 15 ton anchors with their 185 fathom chains is under their direction. The dangerous job of refueling is not the least of the responsibility of the gunnery department.

This is the kind of work in which the majority of regular seamen spend their time. After training a few pass the tests that admit them into the Fox division, or electrical and radar work. But only 24 in the last examination qualified for that field.

(Next week we start for home).

Newsstand Of The Week

LENA'S DRUG STORE will have larger quarters in the near future, but meanwhile are continuing to sell hundreds of copies of the Palatine Enterprise, one of Paddock Publications, each week. Pictured with Lena Bonin, above, is Stan Arendt, co-partner of Lena's.

If it's golf you want, Stan's the man—but if you want advice on how to cut meat, what shampoo to use, or where the beach balls are kept, Lena's the girl. She was a butcher for seven years and worked at the post office before taking over the drug store at Slade and Brockway in Palatine. Stan is manager and golf pro of Inverness country club in the summer.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. When rising from the table, should one push one's chair back in place?

A. In a private dining room, you should leave the chair where it is. However, in a restaurant it is better to push it back close to the table so that it is out of the way of any one who may be passing.

Q. What, in general, is an acceptable tip to give bellboys, porters ,and others who render you small services in a hotel?

A. Usually, 25 cents for small services. You should be guided, however, by the amount of work each person does for you and, of course, by the type of establishment.

Q. When celery, pickles, or olives are passed at the table, where should the guest place them?

A. On the bread and butter plate.

Q. My friends have told me it is not proper for me to retain my fork in my left hand, after cutting my meat with knife and fork — that I should switch my fork to my right hand to eat the meat. Are they right?

A. No, they are wrong. Best table manners now decree lifting food to the mouth with the fork in the left hand, rather than shifting back and forth.

Q. Would it be proper for a girl to accept her fiance's invitation to visit over a week-end with his family in another city?

A. Only if his mother, or some member of his family, has extended an invitation to her. Without such word, it is not proper for her to accept.

Q. Does the engagement ring necessarily have to be a diamond?

A. Not at all.

Q .How does a woman secretary identify herself on the telephone to other business people, as Miss Jones or as Mary Jones?

A. Usually, as Miss Jones. However, if she is well acquainted with the other persons and they know her by her first name, it is quite all right for her to announce herself as Mary Jones.

Q. Does a man who is traveling alone prefix "Mr." when registering at a hotel?

A. No; he merely registers as John B. Green, Peoria, Ill.

Q. If a widow has a son with the same name as his late father's, and he marries, how do she and her daughter-in-law write their names?

A. The widow adds "Sr." to her name.

Q. I have just become engaged and my family wants to buy me a hope chest. Is this proper, or should my fiance present me with this?

A. The bridegroom-elect is not expected to buy the hope chest. It is quite proper for your family to furnish you with this.

Lessons In.... English

by W. L. Gordon

Words Often Misused

Either "disembark" or "debark" is correct usage, but since "bark" means "a ship," we should not say that the soldiers debarked or disembarked from a train. Use the words only in the nautical sense.

Do not say, "I am sick to my stomach." It is better to say, "I am sick at my stomach," or "I am nauseated."

One may say, "Drive slowly," or, "Drive slow," as both words are adverbs in this case. "Drive slowly" is the more formal of the two.

Do not say, "I've got no place to stay." It is better to say "I have nowhere to stay."

Do not say, "That book is someone's else." Say, "someone else's."

Do not say, "That's all the faster my car will go." Say, "That's as fast as my car will go."

Words Often Mispronounced

Savant (man of learning). Pronounce sa-van, first a as in sad, second a as in ah, accent second syllable.

Unctuous (oily). Pronounce ungk-tu-us, first and third u's as in up, second u as in use, accent first syllable.

Enigma Pronounce e-nig-ma, e as in me unstressed, i as in big, accent second syllable.

Eleemosynary (relating to charity or alms). Pronounce el-e-mos-i-ner-i, first and third e's as in it, principal accent on third syllable.

Chaise longue (long chair). Pronounce shaz-long, a as in ate, and the second syllable is pronounced as long (not as lounj), principal accent on second syllable.

Globular. Pronounce the o as in on, not as in globe.

Words Often Misspelled

Cist (a box; chest); cyst (a sac of morbid matter). Farewell, fare; fairway, fair. Colonnade; observe the two n's, and the one l. Clamant (clamorous); claimant (one who claims). Chalice (drinking cup), one l; challenge, two l's. Allude (to refer), two l's; elude (to escape), one l.

Word Study

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Meticulous; unduly or excessively careful of some details; finically scrupulous. "She was meticulous in her bookkeeping."

Decorous; becoming; proper; seemly. (Pronounce with accent on first syllable, the e as in deck). "The speaker was attired in decorous fashion."

Tortuous; twisting; winding. "He followed the tortuous path that led through the wilderness."

Contemptuous; disdainful; scornful. "He was contemptuous in his attitude toward his employees."

Fulgent; dazzlingly bright; shining. (Pronounce the g as in j). "The sun's fulgent rays blinded him momentarily."

Vindicate; to sustain; justify; as, "to vindicate one's honor."

Steal 28 Mink Pelts At Cary Fur Farm

Twenty-eight mink pelts were stolen from the Oakwood Fur farm on the Rawson bridge road west of Fox river.

This was the second burglary of a fur farm in the area in recent weeks.

The pelts taken Friday night had been prepared for shipment to a New York fur house. Otto Koetz, owner of the Oakwood farm, valued the pelts at $1,064.

About Your Health

Prostatitis, or inflammation of the prostate gland, is one of the most painful conditions affecting man. Yet, because of its location in the body and association with the genito-urinary tract, discussion of the prostate gland seems to be avoided in society. A foolish avoidance, the Educational Committee of the Illinois state medical society observes, because the prostate gland is an important organ in the normal functioning of the male's body.

The prostate is a small gland located at the outlet of the bladder in the male. It lies within the body about two inches from the crotch. The urethra is the tube which conducts the urine from the bladder to the outside. The prostate completely surrounds the urethra at its beginning where it leaves the bladder. This relationship accounts for most of the trouble when the prostate is afflicted, because it interferes with the act of voiding.

THE PROSTATE is also one of the accessory reproductive glands in the male, which accounts for other symptoms involved in prostatitis. Many non-medical persons think that prostatic disturbance is a complication of some venereal infection. This is an incorrect viewpoint, since there are many prostatic disturbances in persons who have no history of venereal infection.

It has been estimated that about one out of every three adult males has some degree of infection of the prostate. This may occur at any age, but it is most frequent during middle life, and may be considered either an acute or chronic prostatitis.

How does this small gland get infected? First, one may get it by direct extension from an infection of the urethra. In this respect a venereal infection may be one of the occasional causes. Sometimes an infection may be transmitted when instruments and catheters carrying bacteria are passed through the urethra. This is the reason physicians are very careful to pass an instrument through the urethra under as aseptic conditions as possible.

INFECTION may also occur through the blood or lymph stream from some other site of infection such as that stemming from a boil, or an infection of the respiratory tract or bowel.

In acute prostatitis, one will find a patient with chills and fever. There will be burning on urination along with urinary frequency and urgency. The urgency is so great, in fact, that the patient finds it difficult to control even though his intelligence tells him that the bladder is empty. There may be swelling, sometimes to such an extent that the passage of urine is completely obstructed. Usually the condition is accompanied with great pain and tenderness.

Chronic prostatitis is quite common, especially during middle age and after. It may be that the patient first had an acute infection which has settled into a chronic phase. This is not the usual course, however. Instead the patient will develop a low grade chronic prostatitis. The inflammation may exist for years undetected. First noticeable symptom is a slight increase in frequency of urination at night.

Cpl. Kenneth G. Schwingel, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob G. Schwingel, 134 W. Slade st., Palatine, is scheduled to return to the U. S. February 20 from service with the 43d infantry division in Germany.

Schwingel, who wears the national defense service medal and the army of occupation medal for duty in Germany, is a wire team chief in the 169th regiment's headquarters company. He has been overseas since August, 1952.

A former claims investigator for the Chicago and North Western railroad in Palatine, the corporal entered the army in February, 1952, and completed basic training at Fort Sill, Okla.

Former Arlington Man Gets Silver Star And Bronze Star In Korea

Bruce R. Guild Jr., formerly of Arlington Heights, has received the Silver Star and Bronze Star for action in Korea. Bruce Sr., used to make his home in Arlington Heights, and is the brother of Merle Guild, after whom the local American Legion was named. The Guilds now live in Park Ridge.

Bruce, Jr., was in command of several men last June who under heavy enemy fire, evacuated American wounded. Later he engineered the recapture of an outpost which the enemy had taken. He had advanced alone to the outpost before ordering his men to follow. For this action he was awarded the silver star.

On June 17 in the vicinity of the Chohanggol area, Guild exposed himself to direct enemy fire to recover vitally needed machine gun ammunition that was left behind. He was awarded the bronze star for this action.

While performing this mission several hundred yards in front of the main battle position, he was knocked to the ground twice by concussion of enemy fire. Altho stunned, he was still able to struggle back to his lines with the ammunition which was used to stem the enemy advance.

In the Shadow of + + + The Steeple

by William O. McGill

The President of the United States went to a special Mass the other day for members of the legal profession. Jim Nichols once remarked in a group where I was present that Protestant churches too often were not involved in the vocational problems of the professions.

"For example," said he, "take the law schools, only the Roman Catholic universities teach courses in jurisprudence, the moral philosophy, on which the law is founded. I don't agree with all their teaching," he added, "but I praise God that they have this conviction of the importance of moral philosophy as a basis of law."

THERE IS ONE Protestant group endeavoring to form a list of lawyers within that denomination. Is this an effort to supply a needed lack of training in moral philosophy? No, dear reader, it is an effort to be sure that these lawyers are properly acquainted with the legal titles of the denomination's various enterprises so that the wills which they draw will reflect denominational opportunities for service to live on after the individual has gone home.

That is an important area in which the church's service could be improved.

But there are moral problems which a lawyer faces which are more important than this. For example, a client comes to a lawyer seeking a divorce. This lawyer has represented him in business in the past. He has a basic loyalty to him as client and friend. Yet he wonders how far he should go in a careful search for the facts to ascertain whether a reconciliation is possible. He finds himself in a moral dilemma of seeking in the situation "basis loyalty" and "something more."

On other occasions, this lawyer conducts cross-examinations of witnesses on the stand. He wants to win the case. Yet he wonders whether winning at the cost of ridiculing and unduly confusing a witness is really doing what is right.
